Rain Outlook For Stricken Tornado Area

(By The Associated Press)

Wet weather was the outlook today for the tornado-stricken areas in Alabama and Georgia where 25 persons have been killed and hundreds injured in the last two days.

Twisters struck along a 60-mile path in north central Alabama Friday, hitting hardest at Ashland. Seven were killed and 12 injured. A tornado which ripped the area of Warner Robins, Ga., on Thursday, killed 18 and injured between 250 and 300. The twisters caused millions of dollars damage to property.

Cool Front Moves In

Showers were in prospect for much of the southeastern section of the country. The weather bureau, however, had not issued any tornado warnings early today. A cool front had moved into eastern Kentucky this morning.

The rest of the southern half of the country had fair and mild weather while there was rain across the northern tier of states from the northern plains to the New England coast. In some areas there was only light rain or drizzle but heavy falls were reported during the night in the northeastern region.

Muddy rains hit sections from the midwest to New England yesterday, while in parts of the southwest there were more dust storms. The muddy rains streaked clothes and automobiles and windows, and cut visibility of plane pilots who reported the dust-laden air as high as 10,000 feet. The St. Louis Weather Bureau said the dust storm was the worst in 12 to 15 years and throughout the southwest there were fears of dust storms similar to the disastrous blows of the 1930's.

102 at Laredo

Mid-summer temperatures hit southern Texas yesterday, with a top of 102 at Laredo and 100 at Brownsville. There was a general warming in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys as far north as Indianapolis, but cooler weather moved over the southern Rockies eastward into western Kansas and the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle.

An injured child is treated at an aid station in Warner Robins, Ga., after tornadoes ripped through the town and surrounding areas, killing 13 and injuring hundreds. The death toll brought to at least 25 the total number killed in the three-day rampage of a cyclonic front that swept to the Atlantic seaboard from Texas. Warner Robins was "completely desolated" by the twisters. (NEA Telephoto).

Polio Drive Hits $12,838 in City; Topped by Mothers

The 1953 March of Dimes drive in Kingston netted $12,838.14, Addison Jones, county campaign director, and William Kelly, chapter chairman, announced today.

They indicated that this year's drive was the best on record and said that the full county report will be released soon.

Two big features highlighted the annual march on polio this year, the Mothers' March realizing $4,156.12 and the variety show held at Kingston High School bringing in an additional $2,619.26. The Mothers' March was led by Mrs. John J. Hogan while the variety show was under the supervision of Alderman-at-Large Joe Kelly and Frank T. Oulton.

This year's city drive for funds to combat infantile paralysis was led by William Edelmuth and Morgan Ryan, co-chairman of the industrial committee.

Official Reports

Following are the reports as released by Jones and Kelly this morning:

Advance special gifts, $484; collections in schools and colleges, Mrs. Joseph Roach, chairman, $406.78; labor division, $1,445.64; Mothers' March, $4,156.12; coin collectors, Meyer Kaplan, chairman, $1,166.17; sports events, Andy Murphy, chairman, $408.89; variety show, Joe Kelly and Frank Oulton, chairmen, $2,619.26; collections in movie theatres, Mrs. Howard Shultis and Vogel Gettier, co-chairmen, $454.08; Parade of Bands, Dick McCarthy and Mike Marchuk, secretary of Local 215, Musicians Union, $1,460.55; clubs and organizations, $236.65.

Two Are Sentenced

Ballston Spa, May 2 (AP)—Meyer Lansky pal of underworld kingpins Frank Costello and Lucky Luciano, and Louis J. (Doc) Farone, a local gambler, were sentenced today to jail terms and fined for gambling operations at Saratoga Springs night spots. Justice Leo J. Hagerty of State Supreme Court sentenced Lansky, a New York city resident, to three months in Saratoga county jail and fined him $2,500.

Reds Are Quieter

New York, May 2 (AP)—Thousands of leftists, forbidden their May Day parade, massed yesterday in a three-hour Union Square demonstration. It was heavily policed although there was no disorder. Apparently in accord with the new Moscow line, speakers soft-pedaled their usual attacks on U. S. foreign policy.

Sparkman Points Out President's Policy Varies Little From Past

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today that in next year's congressional elections some Democrats running for re-election may contend they are better supporters of President Eisenhower than Republican colleagues.

Sparkman, the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said in an interview he believes this will be particularly true of some southerners who have shown they intend to back Eisenhower's major policies as they know them now.

"President Eisenhower commands strong support among the Democrats on foreign policy and probably will have just as strong support on domestic policy that hasn't fully unfolded yet," Sparkman said.

"The reason for that is that his policies thus far have shown very little divergence from those that Democrats have been supporting for years."

Not Conceding to GOP

The Alabama senator cited as an example Democratic support for a proposed resolution to condemn Russia for enslaving other peoples. It was buried in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee when Senate Republicans couldn't agree among themselves on language they felt a majority of the Senate would support.

Sparkman also said he doesn't believe Eisenhower will get the reciprocal trade agreements program extended in the form he wants it unless Democrats back him up.

Sparkman made it plain, however, he isn't conceding the Republicans any ground in next year's elections, when seats of all of the House members and one-third of the senators will be at stake.

He said he thinks the Democrats will win back House seats in marginal areas, hold all their southern Senate seats and make the going tough for Republicans in other parts of the nation. ....

Republicans have promised an immediate start of campaigning, with indications they may put special stress on organizing in the south.

Wadlin Funeral Is Scheduled Sunday

Wicks and Dewey Tributes Stress Loss of Fine Public Servant

State Senate Republican Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks of this city today paid tribute to Assemblyman John F. Wadlin as "a fine public servant," and said, that in his death, "the people of Ulster county have lost an able and conscientious representative."

Funeral services for Assemblyman Wadlin, who collapsed and died of a heart attack Thursday night, while attending a Masonic dinner meeting in Catskill, will be held at his home in Highland, Sunday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Highland Cemetery.

Wicks Loses Friend

In a communication from Florida, where Senator Wicks has been resting since the close of the legislative session, to prepare for an operation in Albany Hospital on Tuesday, he paid this tribute to Assemblyman Wadlin:

"I was deeply shocked to learn of the sudden and untimely death of my good friend and colleague John F. Wadlin. His death marks the passing of a fine public servant.

"It has been a privilege to have known and worked with John Wadlin for well over 20 years, and particularly during the last 12 years when we served together in the New York State Legislature.

"The people of Ulster county have lost an able and conscientious representative and I have lost a true friend."

City Insists Reservoir Is Not Control

Alleviation of Floods Is Promised, However, in Esopus Creek Valley Hit Hard in 1951

On April 1 County Attorney Frederick Stang and Horace S. Evans, executive director of the New York State Flood Control Commission, were in New York city conferring with Dominick F. Paduano, commissioner of the City of New York Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, on possible cooperation on the part of the city to prevent flood conditions in the lower Esopus creek valley.

At approximately the same time there was issued out of New York city a statement which in effect stated the Ashokan reservoir was primarily a water supply project and not a flood control project, that the city of New York would do everything in its power to assist in alleviation of floods insofar as the operation of the reservoir was concerned but that the primary purpose of the Ashokan was to supply water to the city.

Discuss Possible Steps

Discussion was had between Stang and Evans and the New York city officials in regard to what steps the city might take to prevent a repetition of the serious flood which came in March 1951 when serious property damage was done in the Esopus creek valley.

Last September a committee of property owners along the lower Esopus met at the court house to discuss the matter of flood control and seek cooperation by the city of New York in future heavy rainfalls or spring floods. At that meeting Stang invited Evans to be present and after Evans and Stang had addressed the meeting, they were authorized by resolution of that meeting to arrange for an interview with the New York city water officials and ascertain what could be done. The meeting on April first in New York was the result.

Asks Essential Data

During the meeting the matter of control of flood waters was gone into and Evans requested the city supply him with a memorandum embracing the essential points which had been discussed at the conference, especially statistical data concerning the operation of the Ashokan reservoir which the city held is of benefit in mitigating flood discharges in the lower Esopus Creek.

At the conference it was pointed out by the City of New York officials that the existence of Ashokan reservoir is of great value at all times in reducing flood flows even when the reservoir is full. Figures were submitted tending to prove this theory.

Says Reservoir Helps

In a letter to Evans of the New York State Flood Control Commission, Commissioner Paduano writes:

"At this conference, Clark pointed out that the existence of Ashokan Reservoir is of great value, at all times, in reducing flood flows even when the reservoir is full. This fact may be illustrated by the following statistical dates of peak discharges in the Esopus Creek at Cold Brook with corresponding flows over the Ashokan Spillway at times when the reservoir was at capacity:

	Max. Rate of flow in Esopus Creek at Cold Brook M.G.D.	Max. rate of flow over Ashokan Spillway M.G.D.
July 8, 1935...	11,000	3,270
March 18, 1936	20,700	3,760
March 30, 1951	38,500	17,600

"It may be of interest to note that the flow of March 30, 1951, was the greatest of record and the probability of such a recurrence is very small.

"It should be borne in mind that the Esopus Creek has a drainage area of 192 square miles at Cold Brook, and 257 square miles at the Olive Bridge dam. Therefore, if the reservoir did not exist, the peak discharge in the Esopus Creek at the side of the dam would have been 34 per cent higher (257/192) than the flows at Cold Brook, as given in Table 1. Applying this factor to the above table, the data given in Table 2, results:

	Estimated Max. Rate of flow in Esopus Creek at site of dam (assuming dam did not exist) M.G.D.	Max. rate of flow over Ashokan Spillway M.G.D.
July 8, 1935...	14,700	3,270
March 18, 1936	27,700	3,760
March 30, 1951	51,600	17,600

Cites Reduced Flows

"It can be seen from Table 2, that due to the reservoir, the peak flows at the site of the dam for the storms listed, were reduced by 65 to 85 per cent. The beneficial effects of the reservoir in allievating flood discharges in the lower Esopus creek, thus become apparent.

"At times of normal or above normal rainfall, our policy in operating the Ashokan reservoir is to withdraw water from it at a rate equal to the maximum capacity (600 MGD) of the Catskill

Two Claim Agency Is Safeguard

Southern Senators Urge President Not to Cut Out Office Checking on Military Waste

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Two southern Democratic senators today urged President Eisenhower to change his mind about wiping out a defense agency they said saves the taxpayers billions of dollars.

Sens. Long of Louisiana and Stennis of Mississippi protested the proposed abolition of the Office of Director of Installations, set up by Congress just eight months ago.

Long, in a statement that questioned whether Eisenhower even understood what this office was doing, said in a statement:

"I entertain the hope that the President will fully inform himself and reconsider this ill-advised action."

Calls for Facts Study

Stennis, who got Congress to set up the special watchdog agency, said in an interview:

"I think the President should personally examine the facts and consider amending the plan."

Both lawmakers had reference to the President's plan to reorganize the Department of Defense. The plan was sent to Congress Thursday and, by law, goes into effect 60 days from then unless either the Senate or House rejects it by a clear majority.

Congress must accept or reject such plans as a whole, although amendments may be made in separate legislation later with Senate and House approval and the President's signature.

Long, who has been feuding with what he calls the "high brass in the Pentagon," said the new watchdog office had saved the taxpayers billions of dollars by putting "a bridle on the most outrageous type of military waste and extravagance."

Won't Give Up

Stennis said that, if Congress allows the defense reorganization to become effective, he will introduce separate legislation to re-establish the agency.

Both Stennis and Long conceded in separte interviews that chances of defeating the entire reorganization plan are slim.

Long said Congress set up the agency while Eisenhower was running for President and so "it is unlikely that President Eisenhower would have known about the efficiency and unpublicized accomplishments."

"The military brass fought to prevent this office being established and has since sought to abolish it because it has been effecting savings of vast millions of dollars every day of the year," Long said.

He credited Frank Creedon, who heads the office, with reject-

State Loses One Of Noted Lawyers

DANIEL H. PRIOR

Daniel H. Prior, whose skill in defending alleged criminals at the bar had won him recognition across the state, died today in Albany hospital at the age of 65, the Associated Press said.

Prior was well known in Kingston, having appeared as counsel in cases that attracted statewide attention. He represened most of the 26 persons named in 10 indictments during Saratoga gambling probe held at the Ulster County courthouse in November, 1951.

A noted speaker, he addressed Kingston audiences on several occasions in recent years.

The veteran attorney, the Associated Press said, had been ill for several months. He entered the hospital April 25.

He had been serving as counsel to several defendants in the state-ordered investigations of gambling and political pay-offs in Saratoga and Columbia counties.

Allies Agree to Skip Tomorrow's Session as Recess requested by Communists

Panmunjom, May 2 (AP)—The Communists asked today for a one-day recess in the Korean truce talks after naming four Asian nations they consider qualified to take custody of war prisoners who refuse to go home.

The Allies agreed to skip tomorrow's session.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il said India, Pakistan, Burma and Indonesia might be considered neutral nations to serve as caretaker for 48,000 prisoners who balk at returning to their Communist homeland.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison reiterated the allied position that the neutral take custody of the prisoners in Korea until their future is decided.

Asked whether any of the four Asian nations named by the Reds would be acceptable, the senior allied delegate said:

"That is a matter to be settled on levels far above mine."

Washington officials were quoted as saying it was possible the United States would accept either Pakistan or India as the neutral to take custody of the prisoners in Korea.

However, informed sources said the U. S. had no firm policy other than that Sweden and Switzerland were acceptable. The Reds already have rejected Switzerland. The UN suggested Sweden Friday, but the Communists did not reply.

Give No Reason

The Communists asked the one-day recess without explanation after a bitter 65-minute meeting.

Meanwhile, the UN command—following a fanatical, clothes-ripping demonstration at Panmunjom by a band of hard-core Red repatriates—warily prepared to wind up delivery of disabled North Korean and Chinese prisoners Sunday.

A total of 185 Reds, including 21 women, will be returned, making the final total 6,670. That's roughly 800 more than originally promised.

Nam repeated at the opening of Saturday's session the Red demand that the UN first agree to send balky prisoners out of Korea before the neutral custodian is named.

He insisted, however, that "it is obviously impractical" to ship captives to far-away Europe.

Mentions Four Nations

"There are many neutral nations in Asia such as India, Burma, Indonesia and Pakistan. Can you possibly say that these neutral nations are not suitable?"

Nam said it would put a neutral in an "embarrassing position"

Old Palen Stable Bought for Tavern By Frank Carpino

The former Elmer Palen property located at the corner of Broadway and Field Court has been sold by his widow, Mary Palen, to Frank J. Carpino, proprietor of Jack's Restaurant at 596 Broadway. The property, which fronts 25 feet on Broadway and is over 314 deep along Field Court, comprises over 16,500 square feet.

The buildings, which consist of two one-story brick veneer structures on Broadway, a large frame shed and a concrete block warehouse on Field Court, will be torn down by the new owner in the near future. Perry Brothers Taxi Company, which occupies the two front buildings will continue in their present location until their plans for other quarters are completed.

Plans Rathskeller

Carpino plans to erect a modern tavern in addition to a large dining room in the rear, with a Rathskeller in the basement. This new structure, he stated, will blend with other buildings in the central Broadway area which have undergone face lifting and renovation.

The property acquired by Mr. Carpino will be remembered by many residents as a very busy spot especially when the horse business was in full swing. Regular Tuesday afternoon auctions were a familiar sight and the horses would be walked, paraded and trotted up the area in front of the buildings to prove they were "kind, true and of good wind."

No Price Announced

At the settlement of the transaction, the purchasers were represented by Attorneys Charles Saccoman and Floyd W. Powell and the seller by William H. Grogan. No sale price was announced. The transfer was arranged by Ralph Carpino, branch manager of the Harold W. O'Connor Real Estate Agency of 435 Albany avenue.

Half Million to March

New York, May 2 (AP)—An estimated half million persons, including two American prisoners of war from Korea, are scheduled to March down Fifth avenue today in the Sixth Annual Loyalty Day Parade, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The former POWS, who will lead the parade, are Pvt. Juan Osorio-Melendez and Pfc. Joseph Picerno. They returned here earlier in the week. Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.) will be the chief reviewing officer of the parade, originated as a counter demonstration to leftist May Day processions.

Clear for Derby

Louisville, Ky., May 2 (AP)—Clear skies greeted visitors here for the 79th running of the Kentucky Derby today and the weatherman indicated the sunshine would continue throughout the day. The forecast: Partly cloudy and somewhat cooler, with a high temperature of 70 degrees.

Forty More Americans En Route From North Korean Prison Camps To California

Phoenixville, Pa., May 2 (AP)—Twenty tired American GIs recently released by the Communists in Korea, arrived by plane at Valley Forge Military Hospital early today after a long secrecy-shrouded journey from Tokyo.

The men, four of them stretcher cases, were brought to the hospital in ambulances from Willow Grove Naval Air Station in suburban Philadelphia. They were given steak dinners, allowed to call relatives from mobile telephones brought to their bedsides and then settled down for a night's rest.

They left Tokyo Thursday in a C97 Stratocruiser and were flown directly to Travis Air Force Base, near San Francisco, bypassing Honolulu.

First word of the flight came when the men debarked at Travis and one of the patients was transferred to Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

An air force spokesman said the Pentagon had ordered security conditions placed on the trip because the men had been "victims of Communist propaganda."

Maj. James Campbell, public information officer at Valley Forge, said, however, the main reason for the security measures was "simply that the men were both tired and ill and all had expressed a desire not to be interviewed."

"Some of the men may have come under the influence of communism," Campbell said, "but the study of such cases has been limited and not conclusive. It would be unfair," he added, "to brand a whole group of men in such manner."

All of Boys Ill

"All of these boys are ill," Campbell said. "All are suffering vitamin deficiencies, indicated by pains in their legs and the poor condition of their teeth and gums."

"Two of the litter patients have lung conditions and two have foot ailments, which causes them to walk with difficulty," he added.

"All will be given the same thorough physical and mental examinations that any patient is given upon admission," he said, "and the individual treatment in each case will then be determined by the symptoms.

Campbell said the men were flown from Travis to Andrews Field near Washington, D. C., in a DC6B Skymaster and then transferred to two planes, the smaller C47s, for the last lap of their journey to Willow Grove.

Although "dead tired" from the trip, some "perked up" en route to the hospital when they saw the distant lights of Philadelphia.

One soldier commented:

"I've been flying over this country a long time and it sure looks good from up there but it feels even better to be down here rolling over it. Yes sir, it sure is good to be home."

Campbell said the men would be isolated "at least until to-

Two More Face Gambling Charges

Edward Pichlowski and Anthony Pullice Enter Not Guilty Pleas

Two Kingston men who were arrested Friday on gambling charges pleaded not guilty when arraigned in City Court this morning while unofficial reports still indicated more arrests as a result of the raid which local police and the sheriff's office made at 650 Broadway earlier this week.

Edward Pichlowski, 36, of Linderman avenue extension, and Anthony Pullice, 58, of 39 Van Buren street, taken into custody Friday, pleaded not guilty when they appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino this morning.

After making their pleas, both cases were adjourned until next Saturday, May 9. They were released on $100 bail.

Attorney S. James Matthews represented the district attorney's office when Pichlowski and Pullice appeared in court today. The defendants were not represented.

Two Arrested Friday

The arersts of Pichlowski and Pullice took place Friday as the result of the gambling raid Wednesday at 650 Broadway, known as the Broadway Smoke House. The charge was disorderly conduct dealing with the alleged frequenting of a place or places where gambling is permitted.

Also arrested Friday on a similar charge was Arthur Elting, 38, of 75 Plymouth avenue. Elting appeared before City Judge Mino Friday morning and the case was adjourned for a week.

On April 1 County Attorney Frederick Stang and Horace S. Evans, executive director of the New York State Flood Control Commission, were in New York city conferring with Dominick F. Paduano, commissioner of the City of New York Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, on possible cooperation on the part of the city to prevent flood conditions in the lower Esopus creek valley.

At approximately the same time there was issued out of New York city a statement which in effect stated the Ashokan reservoir was primarily a water supply project and not a flood control project, that the city of New York would do everything in its power to assist in alleviation of floods insofar as the operation of the reservoir was concerned but that the primary purpose of the Ashokan was to supply water to the city.

Discuss Possible Steps

Discussion was had between Stang and Evans and the New York city officials in regard to what steps the city might take to prevent a repetition of the serious flood which came in March 1951 when serious property damage was done in the Esopus creek valley.

Last September a committee of property owners along the lower Esopus met at the court house to discuss the matter of flood control and seek cooperation by the city of New York in future heavy rainfalls or spring floods. At that meeting Stang invited Evans to be present and after Evans and Stang had addressed the meeting, they were authorized by resolution of that meeting to arrange for an interview with the New York city water officials and ascertain what could be done. The meeting on April first in New York was the result.

Asks Essential Data

During the meeting the matter of control of flood waters was gone into and Evans requested the city supply him with a memorandum embracing the essential points which had been discussed at the conference, especially statistical data concerning the operation of the Ashokan reservoir which the city held is of benefit in mitigating flood discharges in the lower Esopus Creek.

At the conference it was pointed out by the City of New York officials that the existence of Ashokan reservoir is of great value at all times in reducing flood flows even when the reservoir is full. Figures were submitted tending to prove this theory.

Says Reservoir Helps

In a letter to Evans of the New York State Flood Control Commission, Commissioner Paduano writes:

"At this conference, Clark pointed out that the existence of Ashokan Reservoir is of great value, at all times, in reducing flood flows even when the reservoir is full. This fact may be illustrated by the following statistical dates of peak discharges in the Esopus Creek at Cold Brook with corresponding flows over the Ashokan Spillway at times when the reservoir was at capacity:

	Max. Rate of flow in Esopus Creek at Cold Brook M.G.D.	Max. rate of flow over Ashokan Spillway M.G.D.
July 8, 1935...	11,000	3,270
March 18, 1936	20,700	3,760
March 30, 1951	38,500	17,600

"It may be of interest to note that the flow of March 30, 1951, was the greatest of record and the probability of such a recurrence is very small.

"It should be borne in mind that the Esopus Creek has a drainage area of 192 square miles at Cold Brook, and 257 square miles at the Olive Bridge dam. Therefore, if the reservoir did not exist, the peak discharge in the Esopus Creek at the side of the dam would have been 34 per cent higher (257/192) than the flows at Cold Brook, as given in Table 1. Applying this factor to the above table, the data given in Table 2, results:

	Estimated Max. Rate of flow in Esopus Creek at site of dam (assuming dam did not exist) M.G.D.	Max. rate of flow over Ashokan Spillway M.G.D.
July 8, 1935...	14,700	3,270
March 18, 1936	27,700	3,760
March 30, 1951	51,600	17,600

Cites Reduced Flows

"It can be seen from Table 2, that due to the reservoir, the peak flows at the site of the dam for the storms listed, were reduced by 65 to 85 per cent. The beneficial effects of the reservoir in allievating flood discharges in the lower Esopus creek, thus become apparent.

"At times of normal or above normal rainfall, our policy in operating the Ashokan reservoir is to withdraw water from it at a rate equal to the maximum capacity (600 MGD) of the Catskill

Two Claim Agency Is Safeguard

Southern Senators Urge President Not to Cut Out Office Checking on Military Waste

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Two southern Democratic senators today urged President Eisenhower to change his mind about wiping out a defense agency they said saves the taxpayers billions of dollars.

Sens. Long of Louisiana and Stennis of Mississippi protested the proposed abolition of the Office of Director of Installations, set up by Congress just eight months ago.

Long, in a statement that questioned whether Eisenhower even understood what this office was doing, said in a statement:

"I entertain the hope that the President will fully inform himself and reconsider this ill-advised action."

Calls for Facts Study

Stennis, who got Congress to set up the special watchdog agency, said in an interview:

"I think the President should personally examine the facts and consider amending the plan."

Both lawmakers had reference to the President's plan to reorganize the Department of Defense. The plan was sent to Congress Thursday and, by law, goes into effect 60 days from then unless either the Senate or House rejects it by a clear majority.

Congress must accept or reject such plans as a whole, although amendments may be made in separate legislation later with Senate and House approval and the President's signature.

Long, who has been feuding with what he calls the "high brass in the Pentagon," said the new watchdog office had saved the taxpayers billions of dollars by putting "a bridle on the most outrageous type of military waste and extravagance."

Won't Give Up

Stennis said that, if Congress allows the defense reorganization to become effective, he will introduce separate legislation to re-establish the agency.

Both Stennis and Long conceded in separte interviews that chances of defeating the entire reorganization plan are slim.

Long said Congress set up the agency while Eisenhower was running for President and so "it is unlikely that President Eisenhower would have known about the efficiency and unpublicized accomplishments."

"The military brass fought to prevent this office being established and has since sought to abolish it because it has been effecting savings of vast millions of dollars every day of the year," Long said.

He credited Frank Creedon, who heads the office, with reject-

State Loses One Of Noted Lawyers

DANIEL H. PRIOR

Daniel H. Prior, whose skill in defending alleged criminals at the bar had won him recognition across the state, died today in Albany hospital at the age of 65, the Associated Press said.

Prior was well known in Kingston, having appeared as counsel in cases that attracted statewide attention. He represened most of the 26 persons named in 10 indictments during Saratoga gambling probe held at the Ulster County courthouse in November, 1951.

A noted speaker, he addressed Kingston audiences on several occasions in recent years.

The veteran attorney, the Associated Press said, had been ill for several months. He entered the hospital April 25.

He had been serving as counsel to several defendants in the state-ordered investigations of gambling and political pay-offs in Saratoga and Columbia counties.

Reds Mention 4 Nations To Handle 48,000 PWs Who Refuse to Return

With Open Arms

Pfc. Joseph Picerno hurries down the ramp of an airliner at New York's LaGuardia Airport to embrace his father, Nicholas (center), and brother, Mario (left), after arriving from San Francisco. Picerno, first native New Yorker released by Communists in Korean POW exchange to return home, was to be feted at a "whale of a family party." His advice to fellow Americans: "Keep plugging—keep after the Reds." (NEA Telephoto).

Allies Agree to Skip Tomorrow's Session as Recess requested by Communists

Panmunjom, May 2 (AP)—The Communists asked today for a one-day recess in the Korean truce talks after naming four Asian nations they consider qualified to take custody of war prisoners who refuse to go home.

The Allies agreed to skip tomorrow's session.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il said India, Pakistan, Burma and Indonesia might be considered neutral nations to serve as caretaker for 48,000 prisoners who balk at returning to their Communist homeland.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison reiterated the allied position that the neutral take custody of the prisoners in Korea until their future is decided.

Asked whether any of the four Asian nations named by the Reds would be acceptable, the senior allied delegate said:

"That is a matter to be settled on levels far above mine."

Washington officials were quoted as saying it was possible the United States would accept either Pakistan or India as the neutral to take custody of the prisoners in Korea.

However, informed sources said the U. S. had no firm policy other than that Sweden and Switzerland were acceptable. The Reds already have rejected Switzerland. The UN suggested Sweden Friday, but the Communists did not reply.

Give No Reason

The Communists asked the one-day recess without explanation after a bitter 65-minute meeting.

Meanwhile, the UN command—following a fanatical, clothes-ripping demonstration at Panmunjom by a band of hard-core Red repatriates—warily prepared to wind up delivery of disabled North Korean and Chinese prisoners Sunday.

A total of 185 Reds, including 21 women, will be returned, making the final total 6,670. That's roughly 800 more than originally promised.

Nam repeated at the opening of Saturday's session the Red demand that the UN first agree to send balky prisoners out of Korea before the neutral custodian is named.

He insisted, however, that "it is obviously impractical" to ship captives to far-away Europe.

Mentions Four Nations

"There are many neutral nations in Asia such as India, Burma, Indonesia and Pakistan. Can you possibly say that these neutral nations are not suitable?"

Nam said it would put a neutral in an "embarrassing position"

Forty More Americans En Route From North Korean Prison Camps To California

Phoenixville, Pa., May 2 (AP)—Twenty tired American GIs recently released by the Communists in Korea, arrived by plane at Valley Forge Military Hospital early today after a long secrecy-shrouded journey from Tokyo.

The men, four of them stretcher cases, were brought to the hospital in ambulances from Willow Grove Naval Air Station in suburban Philadelphia. They were given steak dinners, allowed to call relatives from mobile telephones brought to their bedsides and then settled down for a night's rest.

They left Tokyo Thursday in a C97 Stratocruiser and were flown directly to Travis Air Force Base, near San Francisco, bypassing Honolulu.

First word of the flight came when the men debarked at Travis and one of the patients was transferred to Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

An air force spokesman said the Pentagon had ordered security conditions placed on the trip because the men had been "victims of Communist propaganda."

Maj. James Campbell, public information officer at Valley Forge, said, however, the main reason for the security measures was "simply that the men were both tired and ill and all had expressed a desire not to be interviewed."

"Some of the men may have come under the influence of communism," Campbell said, "but the study of such cases has been limited and not conclusive. It would be unfair," he added, "to brand a whole group of men in such manner."

All of Boys Ill

"All of these boys are ill," Campbell said. "All are suffering vitamin deficiencies, indicated by pains in their legs and the poor condition of their teeth and gums."

"Two of the litter patients have lung conditions and two have foot ailments, which causes them to walk with difficulty," he added.

"All will be given the same thorough physical and mental examinations that any patient is given upon admission," he said, "and the individual treatment in each case will then be determined by the symptoms.

Campbell said the men were flown from Travis to Andrews Field near Washington, D. C., in a DC6B Skymaster and then transferred to two planes, the smaller C47s, for the last lap of their journey to Willow Grove.

Although "dead tired" from the trip, some "perked up" en route to the hospital when they saw the distant lights of Philadelphia.

One soldier commented:

"I've been flying over this country a long time and it sure looks good from up there but it feels even better to be down here rolling over it. Yes sir, it sure is good to be home."

Campbell said the men would be isolated "at least until to-

Old Palen Stable Bought for Tavern By Frank Carpino

The former Elmer Palen property located at the corner of Broadway and Field Court has been sold by his widow, Mary Palen, to Frank J. Carpino, proprietor of Jack's Restaurant at 596 Broadway. The property, which fronts 25 feet on Broadway and is over 314 deep along Field Court, comprises over 16,500 square feet.

The buildings, which consist of two one-story brick veneer structures on Broadway, a large frame shed and a concrete block warehouse on Field Court, will be torn down by the new owner in the near future. Perry Brothers Taxi Company, which occupies the two front buildings will continue in their present location until their plans for other quarters are completed.

Plans Rathskeller

Carpino plans to erect a modern tavern in addition to a large dining room in the rear, with a Rathskeller in the basement. This new structure, he stated, will blend with other buildings in the central Broadway area which have undergone face lifting and renovation.

The property acquired by Mr. Carpino will be remembered by many residents as a very busy spot especially when the horse business was in full swing. Regular Tuesday afternoon auctions were a familiar sight and the horses would be walked, paraded and trotted up the area in front of the buildings to prove they were "kind, true and of good wind."

No Price Announced

At the settlement of the transaction, the purchasers were represented by Attorneys Charles Saccoman and Floyd W. Powell and the seller by William H. Grogan. No sale price was announced. The transfer was arranged by Ralph Carpino, branch manager of the Harold W. O'Connor Real Estate Agency of 435 Albany avenue.

Half Million to March

New York, May 2 (AP)—An estimated half million persons, including two American prisoners of war from Korea, are scheduled to March down Fifth avenue today in the Sixth Annual Loyalty Day Parade, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The former POWS, who will lead the parade, are Pvt. Juan Osorio-Melendez and Pfc. Joseph Picerno. They returned here earlier in the week. Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.) will be the chief reviewing officer of the parade, originated as a counter demonstration to leftist May Day processions.

Clear for Derby

Louisville, Ky., May 2 (AP)—Clear skies greeted visitors here for the 79th running of the Kentucky Derby today and the weatherman indicated the sunshine would continue throughout the day. The forecast: Partly cloudy and somewhat cooler, with a high temperature of 70 degrees.

Two More Face Gambling Charges

Edward Pichlowski and Anthony Pullice Enter Not Guilty Pleas

Two Kingston men who were arrested Friday on gambling charges pleaded not guilty when arraigned in City Court this morning while unofficial reports still indicated more arrests as a result of the raid which local police and the sheriff's office made at 650 Broadway earlier this week.

Edward Pichlowski, 36, of Linderman avenue extension, and Anthony Pullice, 58, of 39 Van Buren street, taken into custody Friday, pleaded not guilty when they appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino this morning.

After making their pleas, both cases were adjourned until next Saturday, May 9. They were released on $100 bail.

Attorney S. James Matthews represented the district attorney's office when Pichlowski and Pullice appeared in court today. The defendants were not represented.

Two Arrested Friday

The arersts of Pichlowski and Pullice took place Friday as the result of the gambling raid Wednesday at 650 Broadway, known as the Broadway Smoke House. The charge was disorderly conduct dealing with the alleged frequenting of a place or places where gambling is permitted.

Also arrested Friday on a similar charge was Arthur Elting, 38, of 75 Plymouth avenue. Elting appeared before City Judge Mino Friday morning and the case was adjourned for a week.

Albany Man Will Address Council Of Church Schools

The Ulster County Church School Council will hold a fifth anniversary banquet at the Fair Street Reformed Church Wednesday evening, May 27, it was announced following a meeting of the Council's executive board Wednesday night.

Leo V. Stockman, Albany accountant, president of Everyman's Bible Class of that city, will be the guest speaker. The class, an inter-denominational men's group, was organized in 1944 with the late Rev. Dr. Raymond Clee as teacher. Stockman is also area governor of Toastmasters International.

Formed in 1948

The Ulster County Church School Council, formed in 1948, is the sponsor of the annual Christian Life and Leadership Training Institute, an accredited religious education school which meets each fall over a six-week period and offers courses for church school teachers and others interested in Christian education.

In addition to marking the council's fifth birthday, the banquet will serve as a reunion of instructors and alumni of the annual Institutes. Reservations will be open to all persons interested in Christian education.

Officers of the council, who will serve as the general committee of the banquet, are John R. Warren, president; the Rev. John Dykstra and Chester A. Baltz, Jr., vice presidents; Harry E. Giles, treasurer; Mrs. George Gillison, recording secretary, and Miss Grace M. Anderson, corresponding secretary. Co-chairmen in charge of tickets will be Harry Giles and Henry Van Der Zee.

DramaticReligious Series Is Planned By Local Ministers

A series of transcribed dramatic religious programs entitled, Let There Be Light,, will be introduced as a weekly public service over Station WKNY beginning with the first broadcast Sunday from 9 to 9:15 a. m. and continuing each Sunday thereafter at the same hour until further notice.

Produced by the Broadcasting and Film Commission of The National Council of the Churches of America, the programs are being sponsored locally by the Kingston Ministerial Association, as part of its regular radio ministry which includes the five-minute daily program of Morning Chapel, at 8:50 to 8:55 a. m., and the morning service of worship, at 11 a. m., each Sunday from one of the local churches.

The Let There Be Light series will realistically depict life-situations in relation to the Christian faith, and have timely significance in connection with recurring major emphasis of the Christian Church, interdenominationly, throughout the year. Several hundred radio stations in the United States and Canada regularly broadcast these programs. The Ministerial Association is happy to be able to sponsor and present them with the cooperation of the management of Station WKNY, in the hope they will be of continuing and valuable inspiration to the listening audience.

Christian Science Lecture Here May 10

The mutual goal of true science and true religion—to bring health and salvation to mankind—will be the topic of a Christian Science lecture to be given May 10, 1953, by George Nay of Chicago, Ill., it was announced by members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Kingston, N. Y.

Nay will speak in Bethany Hall, First Dutch Church at 3:15 p. m., on the subject "Christian Science: The Coincidence of Pure Science and Pure Religion." The lecture is open to all without charge.

Now on extended tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Nay became a student of Christian Science in 1923 after he was healed in one treatment of a severe illness that was to have required an operation. He has been a full time practitioner of Christian Science healing since 1937.

For many years he was active as an architectural engineer, and participated in the design, supervision and construction of many well known buildings throughout the East and Middle West. He was educated in Hungary, graduating in architecture from the Polytechnic Institute in Budapest before coming to the United States in 1913 to follow his career.

Elected to Consistory

Members of the First Dutch Church attending the annual congregational meeting Thursday night elected six members to serve two-year terms on the consistory. Elders elected were Clarence Beehler, James Little and Amos Newcombe. Deacons elected were Charles Rinschler, Warren Simmons and Fred Suppies. DeWitt Wells, senior elder, presided at the meeting, which followed a baked ham supper in Bethany Hall.

To Address CA Group

Rabbi Herbert Bloom of Temple Emmanuel will address the Youth Fellowship of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church Sunday night. The meeting will be preceded by a covered-dish supper which will be served at 6 o'clock. Miss Elaine Barton will have charge of the worship service. The rabbi's subject will be One God. The parents of the young people are invited as the special guests.

The male rhea, a South American ostrich-like bird, has a harem of hens who all lay their eggs in one nest after which he hatches the eggs and raises the youngsters.

Albany Man Will Address Council Of Church Schools

The Ulster County Church School Council will hold a fifth anniversary banquet at the Fair Street Reformed Church Wednesday evening, May 27, it was announced following a meeting of the Council's executive board Wednesday night.

Leo V. Stockman, Albany accountant, president of Everyman's Bible Class of that city, will be the guest speaker. The class, an inter-denominational men's group, was organized in 1944 with the late Rev. Dr. Raymond Clee as teacher. Stockman is also area governor of Toastmasters International.

Formed in 1948

The Ulster County Church School Council, formed in 1948, is the sponsor of the annual Christian Life and Leadership Training Institute, an accredited religious education school which meets each fall over a six-week period and offers courses for church school teachers and others interested in Christian education.

In addition to marking the council's fifth birthday, the banquet will serve as a reunion of instructors and alumni of the annual Institutes. Reservations will be open to all persons interested in Christian education.

Officers of the council, who will serve as the general committee of the banquet, are John R. Warren, president; the Rev. John Dykstra and Chester A. Baltz, Jr., vice presidents; Harry E. Giles, treasurer; Mrs. George Gillison, recording secretary, and Miss Grace M. Anderson, corresponding secretary. Co-chairmen in charge of tickets will be Harry Giles and Henry Van Der Zee.

DramaticReligious Series Is Planned By Local Ministers

A series of transcribed dramatic religious programs entitled, Let There Be Light,, will be introduced as a weekly public service over Station WKNY beginning with the first broadcast Sunday from 9 to 9:15 a. m. and continuing each Sunday thereafter at the same hour until further notice.

Produced by the Broadcasting and Film Commission of The National Council of the Churches of America, the programs are being sponsored locally by the Kingston Ministerial Association, as part of its regular radio ministry which includes the five-minute daily program of Morning Chapel, at 8:50 to 8:55 a. m., and the morning service of worship, at 11 a. m., each Sunday from one of the local churches.

The Let There Be Light series will realistically depict life-situations in relation to the Christian faith, and have timely significance in connection with recurring major emphasis of the Christian Church, interdenominationly, throughout the year. Several hundred radio stations in the United States and Canada regularly broadcast these programs. The Ministerial Association is happy to be able to sponsor and present them with the cooperation of the management of Station WKNY, in the hope they will be of continuing and valuable inspiration to the listening audience.

Christian Science Lecture Here May 10

The mutual goal of true science and true religion—to bring health and salvation to mankind—will be the topic of a Christian Science lecture to be given May 10, 1953, by George Nay of Chicago, Ill., it was announced by members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Kingston, N. Y.

Nay will speak in Bethany Hall, First Dutch Church at 3:15 p. m., on the subject "Christian Science: The Coincidence of Pure Science and Pure Religion." The lecture is open to all without charge.

Now on extended tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Nay became a student of Christian Science in 1923 after he was healed in one treatment of a severe illness that was to have required an operation. He has been a full time practitioner of Christian Science healing since 1937.

For many years he was active as an architectural engineer, and participated in the design, supervision and construction of many well known buildings throughout the East and Middle West. He was educated in Hungary, graduating in architecture from the Polytechnic Institute in Budapest before coming to the United States in 1913 to follow his career.

Rattles Don't Tell Age

Newly born rattlesnakes have no rattle, but develop a new joint with each succeeding moult. The older joints wear away, however, and are lost, so that the number of rattles is no criterion of the snake's age.

Building Permits Call for $120,758

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy issued 47 building permits in April at an estimated total cost of $120,758.

This was 21,993 more than in March when 22 permits were issued at an estimated cost of $98,765.

Of the total issued last month 16 were for new dwellings at $93,300, five for private garages at $3,700 and one at $700 for a storage shed.

The chief issued 13 permits for alterations, additions and repairs on residential buildings at $10,865, and 10 for the same on nonresidential structures at $9,193. Seven permits were issued for oil tanks and burners at $1,800 and one gas tank permit was issued at $2,800.

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, April 30—The Onteora Hose Company will hold a meeting in the Mt. Tremper Schoolhouse on Monday night, May 4, at 8 p. m. Election of permanent officers will be held at this meeting. Temporary officers have been serving pending the incorporation of the volunteer fire company which will serve the Mt. Tremper-Mt. Pleasant area. The incorporation papers were signed by the board of fire commissioners recently.

Miss Catherine Feller has reopened her home on the Wittenberg road. Her sister Mrs. J. Johnson is staying with Miss Feller.

Miss Theresa O'Donnell accompanied William Cassens to Bedford Village on Monday to visit Mrs. Cassens who is undergoing medical treatment there.

The next regular meeting of the Community Association of Mt. Tremper and Mt. Pleasant, Inc., will take place in the former schoolhouse on Thursday night, May 7, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Arlene Smith has recovered from a recent slight case of influenza.

Mrs. Anna Weber is reported to be ill at her home.

George Byron received a call from Endicott last week informing him that his brother-in-law Henry Hogan had died suddenly. Mr. Hogan was a one-time resident of Mt. Pleasant.

The Ladies of LaSallette of the Town of Shandaken will have their annual Communion breakfast at the Phoenicia Hotel on Sunday, May 3. Tickets may be obtained from Miss Theresa O'Donnell. The breakfast will follow the 9 a. m. Mass at St. Francis de Sales Church in Phoenicia.

Local magnolia trees are in full bloom. Among the most beautiful are those on the properties of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Burgher and Miss Catherine Feller.

Gas Pipes in Summer Homes Need Checking

Before moving into a summer home that is equipped with gas appliances, the owner should have a representative of the utility company, or the firm which supplies the bottled gas, make a thorough inspection of all appliances, pipes and connections for possible leaks.

It has been found that gas installations not in use for several months may develop leaks or defects that can be dangerous. This is especialy true of homes that have been without heat during the winter, since sudden freezing and thawing has a tendency to crack the seal at gas pipe joints.

Accented Color Scheme

Light pastels or vibrant clear colors will bring gaiety and freshness to any dark closet. For an accented color scheme in a closet, paint walls and ceiling one color, shelves a contrasting color. If paper is used on closet walls, shelves can be painted a harmonizing color, such as the background color of the paper. This same color trick can be used effectively in kitchen cabinets and cupboards.

When Furnishing Home

One thing to remember in furnishing a home is that you do not have to do it over night. It is better to buy a few essential pieces for your bedroom, and leave the living room bare than to buy "for the meantime." Make up your mind to live for the rest of your life with any piece of furniture you purchase. Perhaps you will not. But if you have to, it will make it all the easier if you select it wisely.

Misuse of Thermostat

As much as 10 per cent of the home heating fuel is wasted by setting thermostats at 75 degrees instead of 68 and by placing thermostats on cold outside walls or where they are affected by drafts, says the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency. Constant starting and stopping of the burner wastes fuel. This happens when the thermostat is improprely located, the HHFA points out in the latest bulletin.

No Dust Catching Trim

Although "flush doors" are used in many modern houses a lot of prospective home builders don't know what they are. This type of door is flat, smooth and has no dirt-catching moldings, resembling a desk top in appearance. Flush doors of hardwood plywood are faced on both sides with attractively grained veneers.

Keep It Clean

When applying composition ceiling tile or wallboard, mix some talcum powder with the nails. This will keep your hands dry and prevent fingerprints and smudges on the clean surface of the material.

Toning Down Bricks

A red brick fireplace often can be given a softer, lighter color by rubbing down the surface with a carborundum block available at paint stores. This grinding also will remove soot stains by revealing a new clean surface.

Magnet Test for Brass

The easiest way to tell the differences between hardware that is solid brass and iron or steel that is just brass-plated is with the magnet. If the magnet sticks, the article is not solid brass.

Prize Tobacco

So highly prized is tobacco among the aborigines of North Australia that they will sell their girls and women to Japanese pearl fishers for a few sticks of trade tobacco.

Color for Kitchen Walls

While white is still preferred for household appliances such as refrigerators and sinks, delicate shades of tile in yellow and green are being used extensively for kitchen walls.

Carries Eggs

The female lobster hatches her eggs by carrying them around glued to the underside of her body. She may carry 75,000 eggs for as long as 10 months.

Germ Carrier

Loads of between 20,000,000 and 40,000,000 germs are not uncommon for the average house fly, but it usually carries about 1,000,000 germs.

Color for Refrigerators

If you would like your refrigerator to match the wall or trim, you can have it sprayed in the color you desire at an auto-painting shop.

THE ETHEL

Shower Cabinets Are Popular

A steady gain in the popularity of pre-fabricated metal shower cabinets is reported by the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

The compactness of modern self-contained shower cabinets helps to achieve the objective of present-day small home design which is to put more comfort, convenience and livability into every available foot of space.

Shower cabinets are available in a large variety of sizes, models, and colors suited to the best construction in every price class.

Shower cabinets are usually installed in corner spaces. Some models are square while others have a corner entrance. The use of this type is suggested where space arrangements or other bathroom fixture locations require special consideration for convenient cabinet entrance.

Among the factors which distinguish quality shower cabinets are pressure-tight construction which makes the walls permanently leak-proof; non-slip receptors; and baked-on enamel finish which means years of lustrous beauty unmarred by rust streaks or peeling.

Modern Sink Will Speed Kitchen Chores

Streamlined to the "nth" degree, the modern sink is not only good-looking but is also designed to speed kitchen chores, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

From its lustrous chromium-plated faucets, its time-saving spray, its roomy compartments and wide drainboards, to its spacious cabinets with many built-in conveniences, the latest types of sink represent significant advances in styling for beauty and efficiency.

The sink is the work center of the kitchen. The entire layout of the modern step-saving and space-saving kitchen is planned around it.

Available for kitchens in new homes as well as the modernization of kitchens in old homes is a wide variety of sinks in sizes to suit every space requirement.

One popular type of sink is 36 inches high, 25 inches wide from front to back, and is made in four lengths—42 inches, 54, 60 and 72. The housewife may choose from single or double compartment models, with or without drainboards on either or both sides.

For smaller kitchens, where every inch of floor space counts another model is available which is three inches narrower, being only 22 inches from front to back. This type of sink is available in lengths of 42, 54 and 60 inches. The number of compartments and the number of drainboards is optional.

End Baseboard Gaps By Renailing Molding

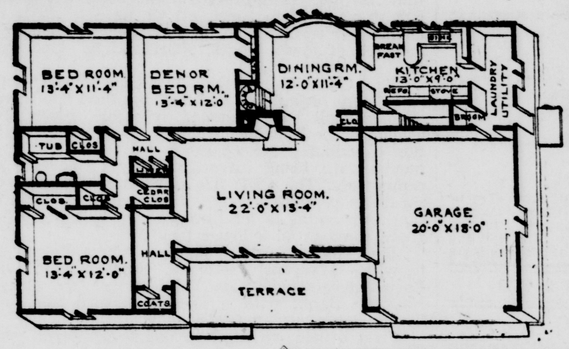

Flooring and baseboards in any house expand and contract with atmospheric changes. As a result, unsightly gaps often appear between the floor and molding at the bottom of the baseboard. This is because the molding was improperly installed by nailing it directly to the baseboard or the finish flooring.

This defect can be remedied by carefully prying off the molding and renailing it with long finishing nails that go diagonally between the bottom of the baseboard and finish flooring without entering either, into the sub-floor or beam beneath.

Subsequent expansion and contraction will cause the floor and baseboard to move, but the molding will not shift and therefore no gap will show between floor and molding.

Let Child Pick Color

If possible, youngsters should be permitted to pick out the colors they want in their own rooms. Colors have a different effect on different individuals and children will be happier, study better, in rooms painted to their taste.

Modern, Attractive, Comfortable

Rooms	Six
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Nine
Cubage	44,200 ft.
Dimensions	60' x 33'

The modern family that prefers a comfortable, informal way of life—that likes to have three bedrooms in the home and wants to build a house that is just as handsome to look at as it is pleasant to live in—will heartily approve of "The Ethel." With overall dimensions of 60' x 33', the Ethel has a cubage of 44,200 feet. At least an 80 foot lot would be required to hold the house and attached two car garage.

If the folks who live in this charming home like to spend as much time as possible outdoors during the warmer weather, they can transform a part of the back yard into a Summer living and dining area. This back yard area plus the attractive front terrace, as included in the accompanying plan, will give "The Ethel's" owners, their family and friends lots of 'extra' space in which to more comfortably enjoy a variety of warm weather get-togethers.

A four windowed bay in the back wall and the spacious china closet in the left wall are the two most attractive and distinctive features of the dining room. The smaller closet, in the right wall near the door from the living room, can be used as a convenient storage place for clean table linen.

Throughout "The Ethel," storage presents no problem whatsoever. Each of the bedrooms, including the den or bedroom, has a spacious closet. And, in addition to the large broom closet opening on the laundry-utility room, there is a general purpose closet, a roomy cedar closet and a good sized linen closet.

An unusually large amount of windows brings as much of the bright sunshine into the house as possible. Both the front and back bedrooms reap the benefits of cross ventilation; the den or bedroom also is well lighted and ventilated for it has three windows in its back wall. Double windows, above the sink in the kitchen, help to make the room more bright and cheerful for the busy housewife; the abundance of well placed counters, cupboards, cabinets and appliances helps to make kitchen tasks both easier and more pleasant.

Spacious and charming, the 22' x 13'4" living room should be so planned and decorated that it can serve as the gathering spot for family and friends. The large fireplace in the back wall is a welcome decorative feature that also helps to add a friendly note to the room's overall appearance.

If one so desires, the television set can be placed against the right living room wall. However, more and more families are having their TV sets installed in the family recreation room. This leaves the living room free for 'visiting' etc.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Study Light Conditions

If a neighboring house or garage is white and reflects too much light into a room you are planning to paint, select a wall color that absorbs light. However, if shadows from the structure next door cut off sunlight, choose a tint that makes the most of light. Warm ivories, and pale yellow reflects light, while deep green, blue or gray will absorb it.

Modern, Attractive, Comfortable

Rooms	Six
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Nine
Cubage	44,200 ft.
Dimensions	60' x 33'

The modern family that prefers a comfortable, informal way of life—that likes to have three bedrooms in the home and wants to build a house that is just as handsome to look at as it is pleasant to live in—will heartily approve of "The Ethel." With overall dimensions of 60' x 33', the Ethel has a cubage of 44,200 feet. At least an 80 foot lot would be required to hold the house and attached two car garage.

If the folks who live in this charming home like to spend as much time as possible outdoors during the warmer weather, they can transform a part of the back yard into a Summer living and dining area. This back yard area plus the attractive front terrace, as included in the accompanying plan, will give "The Ethel's" owners, their family and friends lots of 'extra' space in which to more comfortably enjoy a variety of warm weather get-togethers.

A four windowed bay in the back wall and the spacious china closet in the left wall are the two most attractive and distinctive features of the dining room. The smaller closet, in the right wall near the door from the living room, can be used as a convenient storage place for clean table linen.

Throughout "The Ethel," storage presents no problem whatsoever. Each of the bedrooms, including the den or bedroom, has a spacious closet. And, in addition to the large broom closet opening on the laundry-utility room, there is a general purpose closet, a roomy cedar closet and a good sized linen closet.

An unusually large amount of windows brings as much of the bright sunshine into the house as possible. Both the front and back bedrooms reap the benefits of cross ventilation; the den or bedroom also is well lighted and ventilated for it has three windows in its back wall. Double windows, above the sink in the kitchen, help to make the room more bright and cheerful for the busy housewife; the abundance of well placed counters, cupboards, cabinets and appliances helps to make kitchen tasks both easier and more pleasant.

Spacious and charming, the 22' x 13'4" living room should be so planned and decorated that it can serve as the gathering spot for family and friends. The large fireplace in the back wall is a welcome decorative feature that also helps to add a friendly note to the room's overall appearance.

If one so desires, the television set can be placed against the right living room wall. However, more and more families are having their TV sets installed in the family recreation room. This leaves the living room free for 'visiting' etc.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Study Light Conditions

If a neighboring house or garage is white and reflects too much light into a room you are planning to paint, select a wall color that absorbs light. However, if shadows from the structure next door cut off sunlight, choose a tint that makes the most of light. Warm ivories, and pale yellow reflects light, while deep green, blue or gray will absorb it.

DRUNKEN DRIVING

Governor Dewey has signed a bill for the revocation of a motorist's driving license if he refuses to take chemical tests to determine whether he is intoxicated. The law goes into effect July 1.

The governor sees the bill as a means of forcing "one of the worst scourges on the highway" to quit driving.

The problem of drunken driving is a very serious one and it is hoped that the chemical-test law will help eliminate tipsy drivers from the highways.

In signing the measure, the governor pointed out that in these days of high-speed travel, the safety of the driver and those around him depend on his split-second decision and reactions.

For a number of years adequate law enforcement in drunken driver cases had been hampered by inability to prove intoxication through objective tests. The most widely used tests are those of the blood, urine and breath.

The Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Vehicle Problems, which sponsored the bill, is prepared to undertake a campaign in cooperation with local authorities to encourage the use of chemical tests throughout the state.

RURAL SCHOOL MEETINGS

The annual rural school district meetings will be held Tuesday, May 5. At these meetings the trustees present the budget and other business to be approved or disapproved by the voters of the district.

It is the duty and the privilege of all taxpayers to go to their district meetings and voice their opinions on the matters that come up for discussion and decision.

When only a handful of qualified voters attend a district school meeting, there is a definite lack of interest in the administration of the school system.

Every qualified voter should make it his business to attend the annual rural school meeting in his district and take an active part in its functions.

PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS

"I speak my piece and then it's up to them." This is President Eisenhower's attitude toward Congress according to the columnists Joseph and Stuart Alsop. Columnists are not always right but if they are in this case the President might be heading for trouble. It was such an attitude toward Congress that brought grief to President Taft.

Taft was elected on a promise of tariff reductions. Once in office he left the details to Congress. Under the leadership of high protectionists such as Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island and Congressman Sereno E. Payne of New York, Congress turned out a bill which was far from what the President wanted. He tried to exercise his influence but by that time matters were out of hand. Had he acted earlier he might have secured a better bill. The one that was passed proved to be a millstone around his neck and helped to drag his administration down to defeat.

The Alsops may well be wrong about the President's intentions. He cannot afford to let others, even congressional leaders, settle the details of his program. In the past he has demonstrated a capacity for taking positive action, undeterred by the fears of others. He will be wise to continue to do so.

GREAT FORCE FOR PROGRESS

A businessman has a plaque on a wall above his desk which reads as follows:

My competitors do more for me than my friends, because my friends are too polite to point out my weaknesses. On the other hand my competitors advertise them.

My competitors are efficient, diligent and attentive and they make me search for ways to improve my products and services.

If I had no competitors I would be lazy, incompetent and inattentive.

Business competition takes many forms. Sometimes it is price. Other times is is the quality of service. Other times it may be in the form of an innovation which people find interesting and attractive. Whatever the form, competition, which exists in its true state only in a free economy, is the greatest force for progress that exists.

'These Days'

THE TARIFF RIDES A STORM

When the British or the Russians start a campaign in this country, there are always Americans to take up the slogans. When it is done for the Russians, it is subversive. But when the propaganda is to help the British, then the names are important and the organizations are outstanding.

For instance, at the present time the British are advocating the virtual abolition of the American tariff because that would help them, the British. The argument ought to be stated with great simplicity, namely, that the British want more trade—they add "not aid" to the slogan but that has not yet appeared in the facts. So, if the British want more trade, all we need to do is to abolish our tariff, let in their cheaper goods manufactured at lower wages, subsidized by American aid.

The CED—Committee for Economic Development—was originally founded by Paul Hoffman, the Marshall Plan almoner, who now heads the Fund for the Republic to which the Ford Foundation contributed $15,000,000 to find out why Communists are being investigated by Congressional committees. The CED has come out with an expensively printed brochure to convince Americans that they ought to let European, meaning British, goods come in on a lower tariff.

Then Henry Ford II delivers a free trade speech to which I recently referred. Now comes David Rockefeller, senior Vice President of the Chase National Bank, with a speech entitled "Toward Stable Prosperity in the Free World."

First of all, we need to define the term "the Free World." This is one of those loose expressions devised to give an impresion that something exists which does not. Everybody uses it because it sounds good. Actually, except for the Benelux effort and the Schuman Plan, there is no unity of economic action among the non-Soviet countries. They are competing against each other in the markets that remain to them. If there is any unity of perspective, it is to drive the United States out of markets wherever possible, not only by lower prices, partially subsidized by American aid, but also by a continuing anti-American propaganda.

David Rockefeller, in a speech, said:

". . . The free world is now in a better position than at any time in the postwar period to move toward freeing trade and making currencies convertible. Nevertheless, there remain controls and restrictions which continue to hamper international trade and production. Notably, United States tariffs and trade restrictions must be reduced drastically and, in the dollar deficit areas, monetary reserves should be strengthened and internal inflation must be curbed. . . ."

This is in line with the British proposals to our government made by Churchill and Eden when they were in this country. They did right to make the proposals because they were serving their country. But that does not mean that Americans need to accept them unless it serves the United States.

Is the United States in a position to reduce its tariffs drastically, to eliminate trade restrictions, to abolish the "Buy American" Law, to underwrite the British pound without lowering wages, reducing the number of Americans employed, and without lowering the American standard of living?

No evidence has yet been produced to show that this is possible. What has been shown is that it would be a good thing for European exporting countries if this were done. And it would be a good thing for them, up to the moment that we moved into another depression. Then it would embarrass them as all aid to Europe would have to cease. Therefore, while from the short-sighted view, the destruction of the defenses of the American economy might aid Great Britain, in the long view it could be a disaster to all.

Mr. Rockefeller also said:

". . . We can't hope for military strength and political unity unless we can develop an economic policy that will produce rising living standards throughout the free world."

The facts are that we have actually been pouring billions of dollars of the earnings of the American people into Europe and Asia under the Marshall Plan, European military aid, Point Four, the subsidies to Germany and Japan—money that will never be returned to us.

How much more must we do before we go broke? David Rockefeller might read, to advantage, the Economic Legacy, which George M. Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury, issued recently as a speech. That balance sheet is not very encouraging.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

PASSING OF THE COMMON COLD

We are all familiar with the fact that the common cold is transmitted from one member of a family to the other members and of how the common cold travels throughout an office or factory.

One of the earliest discoveries about the common cold was the finding of many cases on an isolated island some hours or days after the visit of a supply boat, some members of the visiting crew being afflicted. Of course, this might readily work the other way, the crew obtaining the cold from the islanders.

In the Lancet (London), Drs. J. E. Lovelock, J. S. Porterfield, A. T. Roden and others state that it has been established by several investigators that the common cold may be transmitted from man to man by instilling into the nose washings from the noses of patients with colds.

As this is not the "natural" way for colds to be transmitted from man to man, these research workers decided to study the transmission of colds using material from patients with natural colds. Experiments carried out to compare the transmission of colds by different routes revealed that 2 colds developed in 25 volunteers exposed to droplet infection (the sneezing and coughing of patients with colds); three in 32 exposed to full contact, and two in 25 exposed to a contaminated environment.

In some of these tests children acted as donors but children do not appear to spread colds more readily than adults. Studies with artificial mists of infected particles revealed that the common cold virus (tiny organism) can survive the straying and that a cloud of infected droplets will produce colds in some of the persons exposed. Contamination of the outer surface of the nose is unlikely to produce a cold.

"The unsuspected absence of colds in volunteers who used contaminated handkerchiefs for 24 hours might suggest that the drying of the handkerchiefs might have killed or rendered the tiny organisms harmless." This will come as a surprise to many of us who always felt that an infected handkerchief had to be boiled to kill the organisms. To test this matter of dried handkerchiefs, infective secretions (droplets) were allowed to dry on gauze before being used for this study of transmission of colds. There were no colds in 19 volunteers exposed to infection by dry packs, and two colds among nine exposed to moist packs inserted into the nose.

These research workers admit that the number of volunteers was small but suggest that the virus or tiny organism was rendered harmless or inactive by drying.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — If the first 100 days are the hardest, Dwight D. Eisenhower has passed the first milestone on the four-year endurance run.

The transition from U. S. commander-in-chief of military forces in Europe to commander-in-chief of the whole United States and its myriad problems all over the world has done something to the Eisenhower personality.

While he was always under the public eye as a national hero, today he is under a microscope. Every triviality—every frown, smile, cold, stomach-ache or last golf ball is now world-shaking news. Let him say he likes grits, and—bingo! Somebody sends him five pounds a week for life.

It would be hard to say which is the most significant of these tremendous trifles. Some might say that he showed his real character when he climbed out from under high-hat tradition and donned a Homburg for his inauguration.

The Homburg is still the trade mark of a striped-pants diplomat out for a spot of tea. It isn't a crush job to go golfing in on a rainy day. But it's at least one step less formal than a silk stovepipe. So that set the tone for his administration.

A general of the army can put up a pretty formidable front when he wants to throw his brass around. But President Eisenhower has shown that he wants to be a man of all the people of these United States, as he has said himself.

He showed this when he started inviting congressmen — all the congressmen, that is — to lunch or breakfast. Also when he invited all the 30,000 screaming small fry of Washington to roll Easter eggs on his private putting green.

Draws the Line at Publicity Seekers

In all this new Republican democracy—capital R and small d—there is only one place where Ike has so far drawn the line. He doesn't want to take time being photographed with beauty queens or prize cake bakers unless they represent national organizations or have national significance.

The canard that these publicity seekers would have to be accompanied by their congressmen has been denied by the White House. Otherwise, the job of being official greeter has been turned over to Mamie Eisenhower, who, incidentally, seems to be doing all right, too.

Unquestionably, in his first 100 days in the White House. President Eisenhower has lost none of his great personal popularity. Senator Taft expressed that the other day when he said that Eisenhower would run for the presidency again in 1956—and would be re-elected.

Speaking of Senator Taft, there's an anecdote going around Washington about a group of congressional leaders proposing to send the President a report on some deep-dish issue that was bothering them at the moment. "It wouldn't do any good," the story credits Taft with saying. "He doesn't read."

While there is said to be no basis for this yarn, it does illustrate the fact that the President has tried to reduce his paper work to a minimum. President Truman lugged work home with him every night. Ike does it only when he can't get out of it.

President Eisenhower likes to depend more on having other people do his reading of long, detailed reports, then discussing them with him, before making decisions. That's his general's way.

But there are times when he can have people talk at him too long. "After an hour or so of briefing," he once confessed, "I can look a man right in the eye and never hear a word he says."

Nevertheless, the President keeps a full day's schedule of appointments, from 7:30 a. m.—well, make it 8:30—to, sometimes, 7:30 p. m. He is an early riser and an early-to-bedder. When he gets tired on the job, he walks away and leaves it, to relax.

He Attends Few Social Functions

There hasn't been time for as many bridge games as he used to get in on other jobs. Putting and painting—those are the number-one hobbies now. The presidential yacht is being put in mothballs. The White House swimming pool has been turned over to cabinet members and their families.

The White House social season, since the Eisenhowers moved in, has been something of a dud. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower have no time for the cocktail circuit.

Outside of the inaugural balls, the President has attended only three evening functions — the Gridiron dinner, an Indian embassy movie and the opera. He has attended a few afternoon receptions — one at Senator Taft's place, where he made history by shaking hands with Senator McCarthy. And he has made several luncheon talks before national convention meetings in Washington hotels.

The Eisenhowers are, however, regular churchgoers. The President's short, unscheduled prayer before his inaugural speech set a high moral tone for his administration.

All the pre-Chicago convention controversy over his religious affiliations was settled soon after the inauguration when the President was baptized and with Mrs. Eisenhower joined the Presbyterian church.

If all this prying into his private life has embarrassed the President in any way, he doesn't show it. And with his first 100 days safely passed with only one major crisis—the dispute over making the first pitch to open officially the big league baseball season — he has this consolation:

He has only 1360 more days to serve in his first term.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

May 2, 1933—Fireman Edward Noble, of Central Fire Station, was injured in fighting a fire at the Island Dock shipyard.

Jack Feye took over management of the Eichler Hotel on Railroad avenue.

Bernard A. Feeney was appointed to the education board, Dr. Frederic Holcomb was reappointed to the health board, and Dr. Fred H. Voss was named a new member of the health board.

May 2, 1943—Dr. L. E. Sanford, local health officer, said eight of five rabid dogs discovered here since Jan. 1, were found in April.

The Office of Defense Transportation in New York announced plans to mobilize commercial vehicles if it were found necessary.

A scarcity of jurors to serve in Supreme Court was reported here.

Mrs. Ethelinda Vernooy Hurd, a native of Kerhonkson, died here.

So They Say...

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Group to Continue Program for Girls

Woodstock, May 1—The recreation program for girls, which was introduced and sponsored by the Woodstock public health nursing committee last summer, will be resumed this July and August. Announcement that the program would continue was made by Mrs. Victor Busch, president, at the regular meeting of the organization Thursday afternoon at Deanie's. Following a request from the Woodstock Recreation Committee that the program again be made available for the girls of this village, plans were begun for the summer's activities. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Laws, the following committee will assist with the program: Mrs. Victor Busch, Mrs. Charles King, Mrs. Luis Bared and Mrs. Joseph Marr. The committee will meet next week to discuss details of the program, which will be announced in the near future.

Mrs. Bev Anderson was appointed by Mrs. Busch to serve as chairman of the dental clinic for children, succeeding Mrs. Edward J. Devlin.

A report was submitted by Mrs. Charles King, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the box social and square dance given Saturday night at the Town House. It was agreed that the party was a success and that all who had attended had a good time. A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. King and to the following persons who contributed to the success of the evening: Sam Schwartz, for the use of the Town House; Edmund Gilligan and Leo Herbert, auctioneers; Mrs. John Striebel and Mrs. Carl Hubbell, who planned and assisted with the party; Mrs. Rosemary Bare and Jerry Jerominek, posters; and Miss Wilna Hervey for her gift of flowers; Mrs. Rosalind Brennan, for featuring a square dance window in her shop.

Dental Clinic Planned

Miss Anne Cassidy, public health nurse, authorized the committee to make plans for the preschool dental clinic which will be held at the Woodstock School early in July. Dates and other details concerning the clinic will be announced later.

Mrs. King, transportation chairman, reported that in addition to transportation provided for the well baby clinic, a request for transportation to the Tumor Clinic had been received. Miss Cassidy urged that this service be included in the program of the committee, and it was voted that such transportation would be made available to those who request it. This service, however, does not include transportation for individuals for visits to their own doctors.

In the absence of Mrs. Melvin Leshen, chairman of the baby clinic, Miss Cassidy reported that six babies had been seen at the April clinic.

Reporting on the loan closet, Mrs. Clarence Snyder, chairman, has requested that residents who have borrowed articles from the closet, return them as soon as they are no longer being used.

Reports were also given by Mrs. Snyder, treasurer; and Mrs. Gladys Feeley, secretary.

Altogether the regular meeting date of the committee falls on the last Thursday of the month, it was decided that in view of the Memorial Day weekend, the next meeting will be held Thursday, May 21, in the upstairs room at Deanies.

Girl Scouts Stage Own Fashion Show

Woodstock, May 1—Girl Scouts of Troop 74 gave ample proof at the Woodstock School Wednesday afternoon that they have well earned their sewing and good grooming badges which have been their major projects for this year. In connection with the showing of several films taken at Camp Wendy, the Ulster County Girl Scout Camp at Wallkill, last summer, the Girl Scouts staged a fashion show exhibiting a remarkable flair for not only making clothes but how to wear them.

Adding a note of showmanship to the occasion Hannah Barth announced and described the school clothes modeled, Libby Lee pointed out the features of the Sunday school clothes, and Doris Mellin discussed the togs worn for Scout meetings and hikes, while Kathleen Flynn presented the party and graduation wear.

Musical accompaniments were played for the various presentations by Libby Lee, Hannah Barth, Karen King, Ellen Ross and Lynne Wright.

Displaying outfits suitable for school wear, Lynne Wright, Karen King, Susan White, Sharon Townsend, Kathleen Flynn and Lynne Herbert modeled skirt and blouse combinations showing interesting variations. The skirts were made by the girls in connection with their sewing badge.

For Sunday school and dressup occasions, the Ross twins, Ellen and Elsie modeled flaring circular skirts of blue in a sheen-like textured material.

There is a right and a wrong way to wear a uniform, and the most beautifully tailored suit can be ruined if worn incorrectly. The Girl Scout uniform was displayed to advantage by Sandy Locke and Bonnie Wilbur. They also had complete skirts for their sewing badge.

Plaid slacks and blue jeans took the spotlight for the sports garb suitable for hikes and these with appropriate shirts were modeled by Christine Reitlinger, Patty Atkins, and Ann Russell.

Full-circle square dance skirts in a variety of colors with white blouses were offered as the climax of the show by Doris Mellin, Hannah Barth and Libby Lee. For a final treat Jeanne Hasbrouck modeled a dainty white organdy dress which she had made.

Excellent posture, neat coiffures, the aspects of which were studied in preparation for the good grooming badge, all played a large part in the success of the fashion show. The Girl Scouts of Troop 74 had obviously applied themselves with zest and understanding to a popular and highly useful subject. No detail was forgotten including the fine points of proper make-up and the choice of shoes and accessories.

School Budget Due

Woodstock, May 1—The budget for the coming year will be approved at the annual school meeting which will be held at the Woodstock Elementary School, Tuesday, May 5, at 7:30 p. m. Matters pertaining to the next school year also will be discussed and decided upon at the meeting.

Bus Seats Available

Woodstock, May 1—Reservations for the bus trip to New York for the benefit of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, scheduled for Thursday, May 7, are still available. Mrs. Albert Montgomery, who is in charge of arrangements for the trip, has suggested that since the trip will be run on the same day that the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades at the Woodstock School also will travel by bus to New York, that parents might visit New York on the same date. Reservations may be obtained by calling either Mrs. Montgomery at Woodstock 2020, or Mrs. Joseph Holdridge at Woodstock 2939, not later than Tuesday, May 5.

Dairy Is Featured

Village Notes

Woodstock, May 1—David Fairbanks is in this village for a few days and will return to Boston where he is now residing.

Miss Lucinda Bryant has returned to this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hutty returned to their Ohayo Mountain home Thursday afternoon from Charleston, S. C., where they spent the winter at their home there.

DRUNKEN DRIVING

Governor Dewey has signed a bill for the revocation of a motorist's driving license if he refuses to take chemical tests to determine whether he is intoxicated. The law goes into effect July 1.

The governor sees the bill as a means of forcing "one of the worst scourges on the highway" to quit driving.

The problem of drunken driving is a very serious one and it is hoped that the chemical-test law will help eliminate tipsy drivers from the highways.

In signing the measure, the governor pointed out that in these days of high-speed travel, the safety of the driver and those around him depend on his split-second decision and reactions.

For a number of years adequate law enforcement in drunken driver cases had been hampered by inability to prove intoxication through objective tests. The most widely used tests are those of the blood, urine and breath.

The Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Vehicle Problems, which sponsored the bill, is prepared to cooperation with local authorities to encourage the use of chemical tests throughout the state.

RURAL SCHOOL MEETINGS

The annual rural school district meetings will be held Tuesday, May 5. At these meetings the trustees present the budget and other business to be approved or disapproved by the voters of the district.

It is the duty and the privilege of all taxpayers to go to their district meetings and voice their opinions on the matters that come up for discussion and decision.

When only a handful of qualified voters attend a district school meeting, there is a definite lack of interest in the administration of the school system.

Every qualified voter should make it his business to attend the annual rural school meeting in his district and take an active part in its functions.

PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS

"I speak my piece and then it's up to them." This is President Eisenhower's attitude toward Congress according to the columnists Joseph and Stuart Alsop. Columnists are not always right but if they are in this case the President might be heading for trouble. It was such an attitude toward Congress that brought grief to President Taft.

Taft was elected on a promise of tariff reductions. Once in office he left the details to Congress. Under the leadership of high protectionists such as Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island and Congressman Sereno E. Payne of New York, Congress turned out a bill which was far from what the President wanted. He tried to exercise his influence but by that time matters were out of hand. Had he acted earlier he might have secured a better bill. The one that was passed proved to be a millstone around his neck and helped to drag his administration down to defeat.

The Alsops may well be wrong about the President's intentions. He cannot afford to let others, even congressional leaders, settle the details of his program. In the past he has demonstrated a capacity for taking positive action, undeterred by the fears of others. He will be wise to continue to do so.

GREAT FORCE FOR PROGRESS

A businessman has a plaque on a wall above his desk which reads as follows:

My competitors do more for me than my friends, because my friends are too polite to point out my weaknesses. On the other hand my competitors advertise them.

My competitors are efficient, diligent and attentive and they make me search for ways to improve my products and services.

If I had no competitors I would be lazy, incompetent and inattentive.

Business competition takes many forms. Sometimes it is price. Other times is is the quality of service. Other times it may be in the form of an innovation which people find interesting and attractive. Whatever the form, competition, which exists in its true state only in a free economy, is the greatest force for progress that exists.

'These Days'

THE TARIFF RIDES A STORM

When the British or the Russians start a campaign in this country, there are always Americans to take up the slogans. When it is done for the Russians, it is subversive. But when the propaganda is to help the British, then the names are important and the organizations are outstanding.

For instance, at the present time the British are advocating the virtual abolition of the American tariff because that would help them, the British. The argument ought to be stated with great simplicity, namely, that the British want more trade—they add "not aid" to the slogan but that has not yet appeared in the facts. So, if the British want more trade, all we need to do is to abolish our tariff, let in their cheaper goods manufactured at lower wages, subsidized by American aid.

The CED—Committee for Economic Development—was originally founded by Paul Hoffman, the Marshall Plan almoner, who now heads the Fund for the Republic to which the Ford Foundation contributed $15,000,000 to find out why Communists are being investigated by Congressional committees. The CED has come out with an expensively printed brochure to convince Americans that they ought to let European, meaning British, goods come in on a lower tariff.

Then Henry Ford II delivers a free trade speech to which I recently referred. Now comes David Rockefeller, senior Vice President of the Chase National Bank, with a speech entitled "Toward Stable Prosperity in the Free World."

First of all, we need to define the term "the Free World." This is one of those loose expressions devised to give an impresion that something exists which does not. Everybody uses it because it sounds good. Actually, except for the Benelux effort and the Schuman Plan, there is no unity of economic action among the non-Soviet countries. They are competing against each other in the markets that remain to them. If there is any unity of perspective, it is to drive the United States out of markets wherever possible, not only by lower prices, partially subsidized by American aid, but also by a continuing anti-American propaganda.

David Rockefeller, in a speech, said:

". . . The free world is now in a better position than at any time in the postwar period to move toward freeing trade and making currencies convertible. Nevertheless, there remain controls and restrictions which continue to hamper international trade and production. Notably, United States tariffs and trade restrictions must be reduced drastically and, in the dollar deficit areas, monetary reserves should be strengthened and internal inflation must be curbed. . . ."

This is in line with the British proposals to our government made by Churchill and Eden when they were in this country. They did right to make the proposals because they were serving their country. But that does not mean that Americans need to accept them unless it serves the United States.

Is the United States in a position to reduce its tariffs drastically, to eliminate trade restrictions, to abolish the "Buy American" Law, to underwrite the British pound without lowering wages, reducing the number of Americans employed, and without lowering the American standard of living?

No evidence has yet been produced to show that this is possible. What has been shown is that it would be a good thing for European exporting countries if this were done. And it would be a good thing for them, up to the moment that we moved into another depression. Then it would embarrass them as all aid to Europe would have to cease. Therefore, while from the short-sighted view, the destruction of the defenses of the American economy might aid Great Britain, in the long view it could be a disaster to all.

Mr. Rockefeller also said:

". . . We can't hope for military strength and political unity unless we can develop an economic policy that will produce rising living standards throughout the free world."

The facts are that we have actually been pouring billions of dollars of the earnings of the American people into Europe and Asia under the Marshall Plan, European military aid, Point Four, the subsidies to Germany and Japan—money that will never be returned to us.

How much more must we do before we go broke? David Rockefeller might read, to advantage, the Economic Legacy, which George M. Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury, issued recently as a speech. That balance sheet is not very encouraging.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

PASSING OF THE COMMON COLD

We are all familiar with the fact that the common cold is transmitted from one member of a family to the other members and of how the common cold travels throughout an office or factory.

One of the earliest discoveries about the common cold was the finding of many cases on an isolated island some hours or days after the visit of a supply boat, some members of the visiting crew being afflicted. Of course, this might readily work the other way, the crew obtaining the cold from the islanders.

In the Lancet (London), Drs. J. E. Lovelock, J. S. Porterfield, A. T. Roden and others state that it has been established by several investigators that the common cold may be transmitted from man to man by instilling into the nose washings from the noses of patients with colds.

As this is not the "natural" way for colds to be transmitted from man to man, these research workers decided to study the transmission of colds using material from patients with natural colds. Experiments carried out to compare the transmission of colds by different routes revealed that 2 colds developed in 25 volunteers exposed to droplet infection (the sneezing and coughing of patients with colds); three in 32 exposed to full contact, and two in 25 exposed to a contaminated environment.

In some of these tests children acted as donors but children do not appear to spread colds more readily than adults. Studies with artificial mists of infected particles revealed that the common cold virus (tiny organism) can survive the straying and that a cloud of infected droplets will produce colds in some of the persons exposed. Contamination of the outer surface of the nose is unlikely to produce a cold.

"The unsuspected absence of colds in volunteers who used contaminated handkerchiefs for 24 hours might suggest that the drying of the handkerchiefs might have killed or rendered the tiny organisms harmless." This will come as a surprise to many of us who always felt that an infected handkerchief had to be boiled to kill the organisms. To test this matter of dried handkerchiefs, infective secretions (droplets) were allowed to dry on gauze before being used for this study of transmission of colds. There were no colds in 19 volunteers exposed to infection by dry packs, and two colds among nine exposed to moist packs inserted into the nose.

These research workers admit that the number of volunteers was small but suggest that the virus or tiny organism was rendered harmless or inactive by drying.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — If the first 100 days are the hardest, Dwight D. Eisenhower has passed the first milestone on the four-year endurance run.

The transition from U. S. commander-in-chief of military forces in Europe to commander-in-chief of the whole United States and its myriad problems all over the world has done something to the Eisenhower personality.

While he was always under the public eye as a national hero, today he is under a microscope. Every triviality—every frown, smile, cold, stomach-ache or last golf ball is now world-shaking news. Let him say he likes grits, and—bingo! Somebody sends him five pounds a week for life.

It would be hard to say which is the most significant of these tremendous trifles. Some might say that he showed his real character when he climbed out from under high-hat tradition and donned a Homburg for his inauguration.

The Homburg is still the trade mark of a striped-pants diplomat out for a spot of tea. It isn't a crush job to go golfing in on a rainy day. But it's at least one step less formal than a silk stovepipe. So that set the tone for his administration.

A general of the army can put up a pretty formidable front when he wants to throw his brass around. But President Eisenhower has shown that he wants to be a man of all the people of these United States, as he has said himself.

He showed this when he started inviting congressmen — all the congressmen, that is — to lunch or breakfast. Also when he invited all the 30,000 screaming small fry of Washington to roll Easter eggs on his private putting green.

Draws the Line at Publicity Seekers

In all this new Republican democracy—capital R and small d—there is only one place where Ike has so far drawn the line. He doesn't want to take time being photographed with beauty queens or prize cake bakers unless they represent national organizations or have national significance.

The canard that these publicity seekers would have to be accompanied by their congressmen has been denied by the White House. Otherwise, the job of being official greeter has been turned over to Mamie Eisenhower, who, incidentally, seems to be doing all right, too.

Unquestionably, in his first 100 days in the White House. President Eisenhower has lost none of his great personal popularity. Senator Taft expressed that the other day when he said that Eisenhower would run for the presidency again in 1956—and would be re-elected.

Speaking of Senator Taft, there's an anecdote going around Washington about a group of congressional leaders proposing to send the President a report on some deep-dish issue that was bothering them at the moment. "It wouldn't do any good," the story credits Taft with saying. "He doesn't read."

While there is said to be no basis for this yarn, it does illustrate the fact that the President has tried to reduce his paper work to a minimum. President Truman lugged work home with him every night. Ike does it only when he can't get out of it.

President Eisenhower likes to depend more on having other people do his reading of long, detailed reports, then discussing them with him, before making decisions. That's his general's way.

But there are times when he can have people talk at him too long. "After an hour or so of briefing," he once confessed, "I can look a man right in the eye and never hear a word he says."

Nevertheless, the President keeps a full day's schedule of appointments, from 7:30 a. m.—well, make it 8:30—to, sometimes, 7:30 p. m. He is an early riser and an early-to-bedder. When he gets tired on the job, he walks away and leaves it, to relax.

He Attends Few Social Functions

There hasn't been time for as many bridge games as he used to get in on other jobs. Putting and painting—those are the number-one hobbies now. The presidential yacht is being put in mothballs. The White House swimming pool has been turned over to cabinet members and their families.

The White House social season, since the Eisenhowers moved in, has been something of a dud. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower have no time for the cocktail circuit.

Outside of the inaugural balls, the President has attended only three evening functions — the Gridiron dinner, an Indian embassy movie and the opera. He has attended a few afternoon receptions — one at Senator Taft's place, where he made history by shaking hands with Senator McCarthy. And he has made several luncheon talks before national convention meetings in Washington hotels.

The Eisenhowers are, however, regular churchgoers. The President's short, unscheduled prayer before his inaugural speech set a high moral tone for his administration.

All the pre-Chicago convention controversy over his religious affiliations was settled soon after the inauguration when the President was baptized and with Mrs. Eisenhower joined the Presbyterian church.

If all this prying into his private life has embarrassed the President in any way, he doesn't show it. And with his first 100 days safely passed with only one major crisis—the dispute over making the first pitch to open officially the big league baseball season — he has this consolation:

He has only 1360 more days to serve in his first term.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

May 2, 1933—Fireman Edward Noble, of Central Fire Station, was injured in fighting a fire at the Island Dock shipyard.

Jack Feye took over management of the Eichler Hotel on Railroad avenue.

Bernard A. Feeney was appointed to the education board, Dr. Frederic Holcomb was reappointed to the health board, and Dr. Fred H. Voss was named a new member of the health board.

May 2, 1943—Dr. L. E. Sanford, local health officer, said eight of five rabid dogs discovered here since Jan. 1, were found in April.

The Office of Defense Transportation in New York announced plans to mobilize commercial vehicles if it were found necessary.

A scarcity of jurors to serve in Supreme Court was reported here.

Mrs. Ethelinda Vernooy Hurd, a native of Kerhonkson, died here.

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Group to Continue Program for Girls

Woodstock, May 1—The recreation program for girls, which was introduced and sponsored by the Woodstock public health nursing committee last summer, will be resumed this July and August. Announcement that the program would continue was made by Mrs. Victor Busch, president, at the regular meeting of the organization Thursday afternoon at Deanie's. Following a request from the Woodstock Recreation Committee that the program again be made available for the girls of this village, plans were begun for the summer's activities. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Laws, the following committee will assist with the program: Mrs. Victor Busch, Mrs. Charles King, Mrs. Luis Bared and Mrs. Joseph Marr. The committee will meet next week to discuss details of the program, which will be announced in the near future.

Mrs. Bev Anderson was appointed by Mrs. Busch to serve as chairman of the dental clinic for children, succeeding Mrs. Edward J. Devlin.

A report was submitted by Mrs. Charles King, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the box social and square dance given Saturday night at the Town House. It was agreed that the party was a success and that all who had attended had a good time. A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. King and to the following persons who contributed to the success of the evening: Sam Schwartz, for the use of the Town House; Edmund Gilligan and Leo Herbert, auctioneers; Mrs. John Striebel and Mrs. Carl Hubbell, who planned and assisted with the party; Mrs. Rosemary Bare and Jerry Jerominek, posters; and Miss Wilna Hervey for her gift of flowers; Mrs. Rosalind Brennan, for featuring a square dance window in her shop.

Dental Clinic Planned

Miss Anne Cassidy, public health nurse, authorized the committee to make plans for the pre-school dental clinic which will be held at the Woodstock School early in July. Dates and other details concerning the clinic will be announced later.

Mrs. King, transportation chairman, reported that in addition to transportation provided for the well baby clinic, a request for transportation to the Tumor Clinic had been received. Miss Cassidy urged that this service be included in the program of the committee, and it was voted that such transportation would be made available to those who request it. This service, however, does not include transportation for individuals for visits to their own doctors.

In the absence of Mrs. Melvin Leshen, chairman of the baby clinic, Miss Cassidy reported that six babies had been seen at the April clinic.

Reporting on the loan closet, Mrs. Clarence Snyder, chairman, has requested that residents who have borrowed articles from the closet, return them as soon as they are no longer being used.

Reports were also given by Mrs. Snyder, treasurer; and Mrs. Gladys Feeley, secretary.

Altogether the regular meeting date of the committee falls on the last Thursday of the month, it was decided that in view of the Memorial Day weekend, the next meeting will be held Thursday, May 21, in the upstairs room at Deanies.

Girl Scouts Stage Own Fashion Show

Woodstock, May 1—Girl Scouts of Troop 74 gave ample proof at the Woodstock School Wednesday afternoon that they have well earned their sewing and good grooming badges which have been their major projects for this year. In connection with the showing of several films taken at Camp Wendy, the Ulster County Girl Scout Camp at Wallkill, last summer, the Girl Scouts staged a fashion show exhibiting a remarkable flair for not only making clothes but how to wear them.

Adding a note of showmanship to the occasion Hannah Barth announced and described the school clothes modeled, Libby Lee pointed out the features of the Sunday school clothes, and Doris Mellin discussed the togs worn for Scout meetings and hikes, while Kathleen Flynn presented the party and graduation wear.

Musical accompaniments were played for the various presentations by Libby Lee, Hannah Barth, Karen King, Ellen Ross and Lynne Wright.

Displaying outfits suitable for school wear, Lynne Wright, Karen King, Susan White, Sharon Townsend, Kathleen Flynn and Lynne Herbert modeled skirt and blouse combinations showing interesting variations. The skirts were made by the girls in connection with their sewing badge.

For Sunday school and dressup occasions, the Ross twins, Ellen and Elsie modeled flaring circular skirts of blue in a sheen-like textured material.

There is a right and a wrong way to wear a uniform, and the most beautifully tailored suit can be ruined if worn incorrectly. The Girl Scout uniform was displayed to advantage by Sandy Locke and Bonnie Wilbur. They also had complete skirts for their sewing badge.

Plaid slacks and blue jeans took the spotlight for the sports garb suitable for hikes and these with appropriate shirts were modeled by Christine Reitlinger, Patty Atkins, and Ann Russell.

Full-circle square dance skirts in a variety of colors with white blouses were offered as the climax of the show by Doris Mellin, Hannah Barth and Libby Lee. For a final treat Jeanne Hasbrouck modeled a dainty white organdy dress which she had made.

Excellent posture, neat coiffures, the aspects of which were studied in preparation for the good grooming badge, all played a large part in the success of the fashion show. The Girl Scouts of Troop 74 had obviously applied themselves with zest and understanding to a popular and highly useful subject. No detail was forgotten including the fine points of proper make-up and the choice of shoes and accessories.

Bus Seats Available

Woodstock, May 1—Reservations for the bus trip to New York for the benefit of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, scheduled for Thursday, May 7, are still available. Mrs. Albert Montgomery, who is in charge of arrangements for the trip, has suggested that since the trip will be run on the same day that the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades at the Woodstock School also will travel by bus to New York, that parents might visit New York on the same date. Reservations may be obtained by calling either Mrs. Montgomery at Woodstock 2020, or Mrs. Joseph Holdridge at Woodstock 2939, not later than Tuesday, May 5.

Dairy Is Featured

Village Notes

Woodstock, May 1—David Fairbanks is in this village for a few days and will return to Boston where he is now residing.

Miss Lucinda Bryant has returned to this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hutty returned to their Ohayo Mountain home Thursday afternoon from Charleston, S. C., where they spent the winter at their home there.

Search Out MIGs

Seoul, May 2 (AP)—The UN command sent hundreds of deadly Sabre jets and fighter-bombers streaking over North Korea today in a grim search for Red MIG jets and troop supply targets. No MIGs were sighted, but the air force said several rich targets were smashed. Fighter-bombers plastered a series of rail bridges near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. Thunderjet pilots claimed two bridges destroyed and two damaged.

Four animals are known as "gophers" in various parts of the United States: the chipmunk, pocket gopher, tortoise and ground squirrel.

Stack Rigger Wins Carnegie Hero Award

Pittsburgh, May 2 (AP)—A New York rigger won a Carnegie hero award yesterday for his dramatic rescue of an unconscious man atop a gale-swept 257-foot smokestack.

Patrick J. McPartlan, 35, of (3108 89th Street) Jackson Heights, Queens, was one of 22 persons from 10 states and Alaska who got bronze medals for heroism.

He saved the life of Edward V. Glennon, 26, in New York last Nov. 28.

Glennon was at work on a scaffold at the top of the smokestack when he passed out from smoke and gas coming from the stack. The scaffold was rocked by winds up to 35 miles an hour.

Glennon's helper lashed him to the scaffold, then descended the stack to seek help.

McPartlan volunteered his aid, scaled the stack and rigged a rope to the unconscious Glennon so he could be lowered to safety on the ground.

Risking the gas and smoke himself, McPartlan descended the smokestack by its outside rungs, jockeying Glennon with one hand to prevent his body being smashed against the stack by the wind.

Faces Deportation

New York, May 2 (AP)—A 49-year-old hospital electrician, described by the government as Moscow's top representative among Communist youth in this hemisphere, was held on Ellis Island today for deportation. The electrician, Max Young, was charged specifically with being "an alien who advocated the overthrow by force or violence or other unconstitutional means of the government," said District Immigration Director Edward J. Shaughnessy. Young was arrested by immigration agents last night as he left work at a Bronx hospital.

Sentenced for Fraud

New York, May 2 (AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. J. Ryan yesterday sentenced Harry Steinfeld, a dealer in mink furs, to five years imprisonment and fined him $1,000 on charges of using the mails to defraud. Steinfeld, 41, who had lived in Forest Hills, Queens, and who last was known to live in Cleveland, O., allegedly mailed a financial statement to the American Merchants Association, 101 West 30th street, in January, 1951, stating his net worth as $67,791.07, when actually he had a deficit at the time of at least $583,000, according to the government. The financial statement was made for distribution to members of the fur trade through the association, the government said.

Ex-Cop Is Identified

New York, May 2 (AP)—Two sisters, 9 and 7 years old, identified suspended Patrolman Joseph Wilkie yesterday in Bronx County Court as the man who had lured them into his car last October 29 and abused the older of the two. The identification was made before Judge James M. Barrett and an all-male jury trying Wilkie on a charge of carnal abuse arising from the incident.

BOUNCING BOMBARDIER—Skipping over the water off the coast of Gosport, England, the British Navy's "Gay Bombardier" makes a trial run. Similar to the American PT boat, the 75-foot-long ship, as a gunboat, can mount a 4.5-inch rifle and a smaller rifle. As a torpedo boat, its armament would consist of two 21-inch torpedo tubes and one small rifle. The ship has a width of 20 feet.

Hiding His Guilt

Peter Bozzelli, (left), here feigning grief as he meets his son, Marine Cpl. Robert Bozzelli, at a Philadelphia airport, later confessed that it was he who had killed his daughter, Gloria, 24. The body had been found in a duffel bag at Mays Landing, N. J., and the elder Bozzelli played the grief-stricken father role for several days before confessing. In the photo above, he was greeting Robert on the latter's return home for the funeral and hiding his grim secret well. (NEA Telephoto).

Police Hold Two With Missing Girls

Charges were placed against two young Kingston men whom state police said they picked up with two girls previously reported missing from their homes.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Clarence Rappleyea on charges that they violated Section 483 of the penal law dealing with "endangering the health of a child," Edward Butler, 20, of 580 Abeel street, and Raymond Slater, 21, of 48 Broadway, waived examination and were ordered held for grand jury action, Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly, BCI, reported today.

Car Stuck on Lawn

The youths and two girls under the age of 16 were detained by Cpl. Ray Dunn of Phoenicia on Friday morning after receiving a report that the automobile they were riding in had become stuck on a lawn along Route 28 in the town of Olive, state police reported.

The four were turned over to Sgt. Reilly and Trooper R. I. Ryan for questioning, after which the girls were sent home and the two men were arrested. The girls, whose names were withheld because of their age, had previously been listed as missing from their Kingston homes, according to a report to Kingston police.

To Organize Prisons

Albany, May 2 (AP) — An AFL union, which recently organized guards at Sing Sing Prison, says it is trying to unionize guards at all state correctional institutions. Against Brass Direction

"The abolition of this office, with its mere 20-odd employes, will restore to the brass the complete control of military construction which is denied them under the present arrangement," Long said.

Eisenhower, in urging congressional acceptance of his broad reorganization plan, said its aim was "clear and unchallenged civilian responsibility." He proposed junking several boards and offices and switching their functions to six new assistant secretaries of defense.

Apparently referring to work now under the director of installations, Eisenhower said the new assistant secretaries would "make frequent visits to our far-flung installations" to check up on their operations.

Reds Nominate

if it were not first decided to ship prisoners out of Korea. This also would be true, he said, if the allies refused to agree to a nation named by the Reds.

Harrison said it was "impractical" to ship prisoners "overseas," but added:

"The only difference between movement to Europe or an Asian country, is the short period of actual travel on the sea. Yet you would make those few days a vital matter."

The only "reasonable solution," Harrison declared, was to keep prisoners in Korea until their fate is ironed out.

Harrison Tells Reds

After discussing Switzerland and Sweden as possible neutrals, Harrison told the Reds if they wanted to make progress in the talks they would agree to either nation—or name one themselves.

The Reds asked for the recess after accusing the allies of showing no effort to speed the talks.

After the session, Rear Adm. John C. Daniel remained behind for a meeting of liaison groups handling the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners.

For a second straight day Daniel demanded the return of "more than 375" allied sick and wounded prisoners under the current exchange.

He said the allies had "indisputable evidence" the Communists still hold these prisoners and that they wanted to come home and were fit to travel.

Daniel said the figure was based on incomplete questioning of allied prisoners returned last week.

The Reds again turned down Daniel's appeal.

After 24 minutes, the liaison meeting recessed indefinitely.

Twenty GIs . . .

morrow to give them a well-deserved rest" and then, he expected, those who were willing to be interviewed, might talk to newsmen and photographers.

Meanwhile, he said, the next of kin of the 20 men have been notified by telegram of their arrival and invited to visit them as soon as they wish.

The men were from all sections of the country. A number were from nearby eastern seaboard homes.

40 More Homeward Bound

Honolulu, May 2 (AP)—Forty weary but happy Americans with months in North Korean prison camps behind them were en route to California today on the last lap of their homeward journey.

Their big stratocruiser was due at Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco at 7:30 a. m. PDT (9:30 a. m., EST) but might land an hour earlier, a base spokesman reported.

The plane—the third carrying U. S.-bound former prisoners—left Honolulu at 8:24 p. m. HST last night (1:24 a. m. Saturday EST) with 12 stretcher cases aboard.

The men arrived at Hickam Field in ambulances and buses and were seen off by Lt. Gen. John W. O'Daniel, commander of the U. S. Army Pacific.

After a full night's rest in Honolulu, some of the less disabled men went sightseeing and shopping. All were given a medical examination at Tripler General Hospital before the flight.

Sees Democrats

said the net result of hirings and firings would be a staff reduction from 139 to about 100 and an annual saving of $100,000.

Hall said he will appoint a director soon to set up campaign organization and to take charge of patronage matters, which he contended haven't been handled very efficiently in the past.

Republicans in Congress apparently could agree with the latter statement since most of them still are complaining that jobs for Republicans have not been forthcoming in expected numbers since the new administration took over.

Eisenhower broke through the logjam to some extent yesterday by sending to the Senate the nominations of 14 U. S. Attorneys and Marshals in 10 states.

He also nominated Dallas S. Townsend of Montclair, N. J., to be an Assistant Attorney General, replacing Harold I. Baynon, resigned, and designated Horace A. Hildreth of Maine to be ambassador to Pakistan.

Search Out MIGs

Seoul, May 2 (AP)—The UN command sent hundreds of deadly Sabre jets and fighter-bombers streaking over North Korea today in a grim search for Red MIG jets and troop supply targets. No MIGs were sighted, but the air force said several rich targets were smashed. Fighter-bombers plastered a series of rail bridges near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. Thunderjet pilots claimed two bridges destroyed and two damaged.

Cites Polish Discontent

New York, May 2 (AP)—Polish air force pilot Francis Jarewski, who turned over a Russian MIG15 to Danish authorities two months ago, says there is "great discontent" in the Polish army. Through an interpreter, the 21-year-old flyer said yesterday there is considerable unrest in the army and among the people of Poland but a rigid spy system makes an uprising unlikely.

Stack Rigger Wins Carnegie Hero Award

Pittsburgh, May 2 (AP)—A New York rigger won a Carnegie hero award yesterday for his dramatic rescue of an unconscious man atop a gale-swept 257-foot smokestack.

Patrick J. McPartlan, 35, of (3108 89th Street) Jackson Heights, Queens, was one of 22 persons from 10 states and Alaska who got bronze medals for heroism.

He saved the life of Edward V. Glennon, 26, in New York last Nov. 28.

Glennon was at work on a scaffold at the top of the smokestack when he passed out from smoke and gas coming from the stack. The scaffold was rocked by winds up to 35 miles an hour.

Glennon's helper lashed him to the scaffold, then descended the stack to seek help.

McPartlan volunteered his aid, scaled the stack and rigged a rope to the unconscious Glennon so he could be lowered to safety on the ground.

Risking the gas and smoke himself, McPartlan descended the smokestack by its outside rungs, jockeying Glennon with one hand to prevent his body being smashed against the stack by the wind.

Faces Deportation

New York, May 2 (AP)—A 49-year-old hospital electrician, described by the government as Moscow's top representative among Communist youth in this hemisphere, was held on Ellis Island today for deportation. The electrician, Max Young, was charged specifically with being "an alien who advocated the overthrow by force or violence or other unconstitutional means of the government," said District Immigration Director Edward J. Shaughnessy. Young was arrested by immigration agents last night as he left work at a Bronx hospital.

Sentenced for Fraud

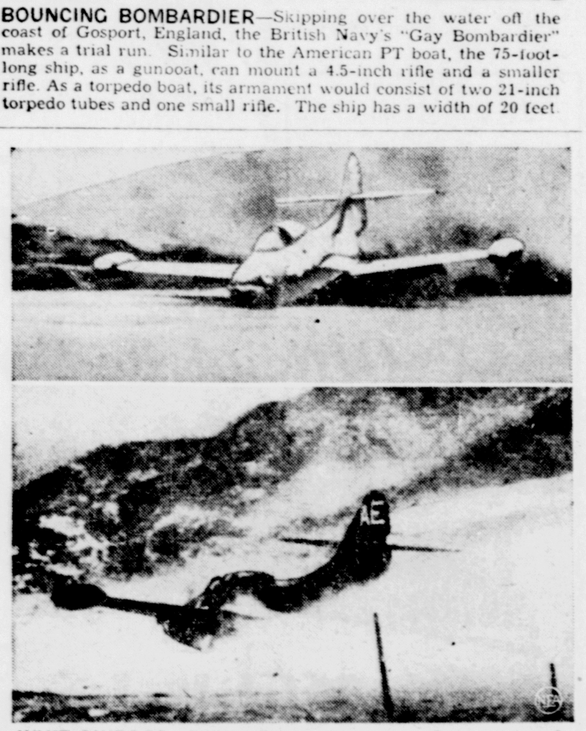

New York, May 2 (AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. J. Ryan yesterday sentenced Harry Steinfeld, a dealer in mink furs, to five years imprisonment and fined him $1,000 on charges of using the mails to defraud. Steinfeld, 41, who had lived in Forest Hills, Queens, and who last was known to live in Cleveland, O., allegedly mailed a financial statement to the American Merchants Association, 101 West 30th street, in January, 1951, stating his net worth as $67,791.07, when actually he had a deficit at the time of at least $583,000, according to the government. The financial statement was made for distribution to members of the fur trade through the association, the government said.

Ex-Cop Is Identified

New York, May 2 (AP)—Two sisters, 9 and 7 years old, identified suspended Patrolman Joseph Wilkie yesterday in Bronx County Court as the man who had lured them into his car last October 29 and abused the older of the two. The identification was made before Judge James M. Barrett and an all-male jury trying Wilkie on a charge of carnal abuse arising from the incident.

BOUNCING BOMBARDIER—Skipping over the water off the coast of Gosport, England, the British Navy's "Gay Bombardier" makes a trial run. Similar to the American PT boat, the 75-foot-long ship, as a gunboat, can mount a 4.5-inch rifle and a smaller rifle. As a torpedo boat, its armament would consist of two 21-inch torpedo tubes and one small rifle. The ship has a width of 20 feet.

Hiding His Guilt

Peter Bozzelli, (left), here feigning grief as he meets his son, Marine Cpl. Robert Bozzelli, at a Philadelphia airport, later confessed that it was he who had killed his daughter, Gloria, 24. The body had been found in a duffel bag at Mays Landing, N. J., and the elder Bozzelli played the grief-stricken father role for several days before confessing. In the photo above, he was greeting Robert on the latter's return home for the funeral and hiding his grim secret well. (NEA Telephoto).

Police Hold Two With Missing Girls

Charges were placed against two young Kingston men whom state police said they picked up with two girls previously reported missing from their homes.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Clarence Rappleyea on charges that they violated Section 483 of the penal law dealing with "endangering the health of a child," Edward Butler, 20, of 580 Abeel street, and Raymond Slater, 21, of 48 Broadway, waived examination and were ordered held for grand jury action, Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly, BCI, reported today.

Car Stuck on Lawn

The youths and two girls under the age of 16 were detained by Cpl. Ray Dunn of Phoenicia on Friday morning after receiving a report that the automobile they were riding in had become stuck on a lawn along Route 28 in the town of Olive, state police reported.

The four were turned over to Sgt. Reilly and Trooper R. I. Ryan for questioning, after which the girls were sent home and the two men were arrested. The girls, whose names were withheld because of their age, had previously been listed as missing from their Kingston homes, according to a report to Kingston police.

To Organize Prisons

Albany, May 2 (AP) — An AFL union, which recently organized guards at Sing Sing Prison, says it is trying to unionize guards at all state correctional institutions. Eisenhower, in urging congressional acceptance of his broad reorganization plan, said its aim was "clear and unchallenged civilian responsibility." He proposed junking several boards and offices and switching their functions to six new assistant secretaries of defense.

Apparently referring to work now under the director of installations, Eisenhower said the new assistant secretaries would "make frequent visits to our far-flung installations" to check up on their operations.

Reds Nominate

if it were not first decided to ship prisoners out of Korea. This also would be true, he said, if the allies refused to agree to a nation named by the Reds.

Harrison said it was "impractical" to ship prisoners "overseas," but added:

"The only difference between movement to Europe or an Asian country, is the short period of actual travel on the sea. Yet you would make those few days a vital matter."

The only "reasonable solution," Harrison declared, was to keep prisoners in Korea until their fate is ironed out.

Harrison Tells Reds

After discussing Switzerland and Sweden as possible neutrals, Harrison told the Reds if they wanted to make progress in the talks they would agree to either nation—or name one themselves.

The Reds asked for the recess after accusing the allies of showing no effort to speed the talks.

After the session, Rear Adm. John C. Daniel remained behind for a meeting of liaison groups handling the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners.

For a second straight day Daniel demanded the return of "more than 375" allied sick and wounded prisoners under the current exchange.

He said the allies had "indisputable evidence" the Communists still hold these prisoners and that they wanted to come home and were fit to travel.

Daniel said the figure was based on incomplete questioning of allied prisoners returned last week.

The Reds again turned down Daniel's appeal.

After 24 minutes, the liaison meeting recessed indefinitely.

Twenty GIs . . .

morrow to give them a well-deserved rest" and then, he expected, those who were willing to be interviewed, might talk to newsmen and photographers.

Meanwhile, he said, the next of kin of the 20 men have been notified by telegram of their arrival and invited to visit them as soon as they wish.

The men were from all sections of the country. A number were from nearby eastern seaboard homes.

40 More Homeward Bound

Honolulu, May 2 (AP)—Forty weary but happy Americans with months in North Korean prison camps behind them were en route to California today on the last lap of their homeward journey.

Their big stratocruiser was due at Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco at 7:30 a. m. PDT (9:30 a. m., EST) but might land an hour earlier, a base spokesman reported.

The plane—the third carrying U. S.-bound former prisoners—left Honolulu at 8:24 p. m. HST last night (1:24 a. m. Saturday EST) with 12 stretcher cases aboard.

The men arrived at Hickam Field in ambulances and buses and were seen off by Lt. Gen. John W. O'Daniel, commander of the U. S. Army Pacific.

Sees Democrats

said the net result of hirings and firings would be a staff reduction from 139 to about 100 and an annual saving of $100,000.

Hall said he will appoint a director soon to set up campaign organization and to take charge of patronage matters, which he contended haven't been handled very efficiently in the past.

Republicans in Congress apparently could agree with the latter statement since most of them still are complaining that jobs for Republicans have not been forthcoming in expected numbers since the new administration took over.

Eisenhower broke through the logjam to some extent yesterday by sending to the Senate the nominations of 14 U. S. Attorneys and Marshals in 10 states.

He also nominated Dallas S. Townsend of Montclair, N. J., to be an Assistant Attorney General, replacing Harold I. Baynon, resigned, and designated Horace A. Hildreth of Maine to be ambassador to Pakistan.

Berkshire Festival Schedule Is Revised

The Boston Symphony Orchestra announces revision in its six weekends of concerts in the Theatre Concert Hall and in the Music Shed, at Tanglewood, Lenox, Mass., for the 1953 Berkshire Festival. Charles Munch, the orchestra's music director, will conduct; with Pierre Monteux as guest conductor on August 1; Leonard Bernstein on August 8 and 15. An important innovation this season will see the concerts in the 6,000-seat Shed performed consecutively on Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoons, July 31-August 16, with the chamber concerts in the 1,200-seat Concert Hall, as always on Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoons, July 11-26.

This 16th Berkshire Festival since the open-air concerts were inaugurated in the hills of western Massachusetts in 1934, the fourteenth since the Boston Symphony Orchestra participated, will mark the first summer in several seasons when Sunday afternoon concerts will be simultaneously broadcast over a coast-to-coast network. The first portion of the concerts, lasting an hour-and-a-half, on July 26, August 2, 9, and 16, will be carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System as part of its summer program of international music festivals. The Berkshire Festival will be the only American event in weekly programs, commencing Sunday, May 3, which will include broadcasts of the Florence, Salzburg, Bayreuth, Edinburgh Festivals in Europe.

Because the Columbia broadcasts commence at 2:30 p. m. Charles Munch has advanced to that hour all of this season's six Sunday afternoon Berkshire Festival programs which in other years have started at 3 p. m. Although the broadcast portion of the program ends at 4 p. m., Tanglewood audiences will hear the remainder of the concerts, following an intermission.

Music lovers planning to attend the Berkshire Festival concerts still have until June 1 to subscribe to one of the three series of Shed concerts (July 31 to August 16), which entitles them to priority of seating, a saving in price, and admission to any of the six July concerts in the Theatre-Concert Hall. Subscriptions are being handled at the Festival Office, Symphony Hall, Boston 15, Mass., which will file orders received at this time for seats for single concerts and fill them when their sale begins on June 1.

College Glee Club Sets Spring Concert

Women's Glee Club of State University Teachers College at New Paltz will present its annual spring concert, Tuesday, May 5, in the college auditorium. The program will be open to the public, free of charge. Miss Marion H. Harding is the director.

Selections by the Glee Club include: We Who Sing Have Walked in Glory, Bach; Mr. Nicolau, Guarnieri; As Costureiras, Villa-Lobos; Prayer for Family of Nations, Harris; Regnum Mundi, Handel; Two Litanies, first performance, Meyerowitz; In My Orchard, Pearl'd With Dew, If I Have My Jesus, Jean Kelsey and Jacqueline Kirk, soloists.

Abigail Adams' Petition for John Adams by H. Gaul, Shirley Ponte, soloist; The Night Is Young, Suese; Nursery Tune with Variations, French-Wilson; Crawdad Song, American-Wilson; Rockaby, Baby, arr. Wilson.

Yolande Barone, soprano, will sing: Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms, Irish; You'll Never Walk Alone, Rodgers; Marianina, Italian.

Piano selections by Dorothy Helle will include: Scherzo, Chopin, Nocturne, Chopin, and Fantasy Impromptu.

The concert will conclude with the singing of the Alma Mater by the audience and the Glee Club.

Wedding Reception Held in Lomontville

Mr. and Mrs. Farrar O. E. Maidhof attend wedding reception at Lomontville Community hall following their marriage in Hurley on Sunday, April 26. The bride is the former Miss Irmgard Sophie Dedy. (Brentwood photo)

Irmgard Sophie Dedy Becomes Bride of Farrar O. E. Maidhof

Miss Irmgard Sophie Dedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dedy, Lomontville, became the bride of Farrar O. E. Maidhof, son of Mr. and Mrs. Farrar L. Maidhof of Mount Vernon, at 4:30 p. m. on Sunday, April 26, in the Hurley Reformed Church, Hurley. The Rev. John Dykstra, pastor, officiated at the ceremony. A reception for 150 guests was held at the Lomontville Community hall, when music was provided by the Jules Tellier ensemble.

The church was decorated with white gladioli, snapdragons, palms and white candles. Mrs. Gordon Burhans was the organist, and accompanied Floyd Vogt in his vocal selections, the Lord's Prayer, Because, and Through the Years.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a lace bodice, stand-up collar and long sleeves; and a lace skirt terminating in a train of nylon over satin. Her French illusion veil was caught to a tira of rhinestones and pearls. She carried a prayer book and orchids.

Miss Ingeborg Dedy was her sister's only attendant. With her gown of blue nylon tulle over taffeta, having a fitted bodice and full skirt, she wore a matching tulle hat and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pink roses.

William Maidhof of Mount Vernon, was his brother's best man.

The couple left by plane for a wedding trip to Bermuda. For traveling, the bride chose a gray suit and black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Maidhof will reside in Mount Vernon.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School, class of '50, and is employed by the New York Telephone Company as a long distance operator.

The bridegroom was graduated from DeWitt Clinton High School, Bronx, is a veteran of World War 2, and is associated with Austin-Bliss General Tire Company in Mount Vernon.

Mourning Band on Sleeve

A letter from a man tells me: "My mother has just passed away, and I would like to know if I should wear a black mourning band on my suits to show proper respect. One sees this so seldom today that I was wondering if it would be conspicuous in a business office, and, therefore, likely to be critized."

It is still correct, even though not often seen today and especially not in a business office where you come in contact with customers of the firm.

She Doesn't Know Them Well Enough

Dear Mrs. Post: My boy friend's parents will soon celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. He and his two older sisters have planned a surprise anniversary party for them, and, of course, I have been invited. This will be my first meeting with his parents and I am anxious to do the right thing. Would it be proper for me to bring a present to the party? I do not want to seem as if I am buying their approval, but an anniversary is usually an occasion for a present, is it not?

Answer: No, it would not be wise to take them a present under the circumstances you describe.

Arrive at the Time Invited

Dear Mrs. Post: Please settle a disagreement in our family: If a man and his wife have been invited for six o'clock dinner, with no mention of cocktails beforehand, what is the proper time to arrive? I say at six and others say it should be ten or fifteen minutes before the appointed hour.

Answer: Correctly, you arrive at six, unless asked to come fifteen miuntes before.

Taste Very Questionable

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please give me your opinion of a sixteen-year-old girl wearing an ankle bracelet? I received one for my birthday and my mother says that an ankle bracelet—especially on a young girl—is in questionable taste and disapproves of my wearing it.

Answer: I'm sorry, but I have to agree with your mother!

Educator, Author Is Named Kappa Speaker

Dr. George S. Counts, educator and author, will be the guest speaker for the annual Kappa Delta Pi lecture on Monday, May 11 at State University Teachers College, New Paltz. Dr. Count's address will begin at 8:30 p. m. in the auditorium. It will be open to the public, free of charge.

This will be an opportunity to hear the viewpoints of an educator experienced in many fields. Dr. Counts has been a professor of education at Columbia University since 1927. Previous to that he served as professor of education at Yale University and the University of Chicago. He was a member of the United States education mission to Japan in 1946.

Aside from his many activities in the field of education, Dr. Counts was the New York state chairman for the American Labor Party from 1942 until 1944. In 1952 he was a candidate for U. S. Senator for that party.

Dr. Counts is the author of several books including The American Road to Culture, The Soviet Challenge to America, The Prospects of American Democracy, Education and American Civilization.

The lecture is the third in a series of annual lectures by noted educators presented by the New Paltz chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary teaching fraternity.

NY Wind Ensemble to Present Paltz Concert

A concert of exceptional interest and brilliance will be presented by the New York Wind Ensemble of ten topflight young men performers, on the New Paltz Artist Series, Thursday, May 7 at 8:30 in the auditorium of the State University Teachers College.

This unique ensemble has been touring for the past several seasons widely in the east, including concerts for the Library of Congress in Washington, Pro Musica Society in Montreal, many universities and general concert courses; and in the spring of 1952 toured throughout Texas, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Illinois for college and general concert courses.

Two quintets comprise the Wind Ensemble, one is the New York Woodwind Quintet of flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon, horn, founded by Bernard Garfield, bassoonist; and the other, the New York Brass Ensemble, of two trumpets, horn, trombone, tuba, founded by Julian Menken, trombonist. Each group has released its own records, given its own broadcasts, concerts and tours, in addition to combining for the concerts and tours of the combined ensembles. Programs of the Wind Ensemble offer alternate groups by each quintet, and also music for the complete ensemble.

The young men of the Wind Ensemble represent one of the most interesting recent musical developments in the United States, that is, the advent of young virtuoso performers on woodwind and brass instruments, and of those keenly interested as musicians in the ensemble repertoire as well as solo music available for their instruments. It is due chiefly to Julian Menken, founder of the brass ensemble, that great music for brasses of earlier days is open to the group; and to Samuel Baron, flutist of the Woodwind Quintet and conductor of the Brass Ensemble, that this music has been edited for the players. Bernard Garfield, bassoonist-founder of the Woodwind Quartet, himself a composer, has brought to the attention of the groups many contemporary works of unusual interest.

The New Paltz program will include works by Beethoven, Bach, Baron, Purcell, Gabrieli and others.

Tickets are available at the College Bookstore, phone New Paltz 8233 for reservations.

Two Take Thrones

Baghdad, Iraq, May 2 (AP)—Two 18-year-old descendents of the prophet Mohammed today ascended the thrones of Iraq and Jordan. Royal salutes of 101 guns boomed out over this storied Iraqi capital as youthful King Faisal II took his simple oath of allegiance to the constitution and loyalty to his people. Across the Middle East's mountains and deserts, Faisal's cousin, 18-year-old King Husein I, became the third reigning monarch of Jordan in a similar ceremony in Amman's tiny parliament house. The two young kings were enthroned at virtually the same moment before overflow crowds of foreign representatives and leaders of their respective countries.

Berkshire Festival Schedule Is Revised

The Boston Symphony Orchestra announces revision in its six weekends of concerts in the Theatre Concert Hall and in the Music Shed, at Tanglewood, Lenox, Mass., for the 1953 Berkshire Festival. Charles Munch, the orchestra's music director, will conduct; with Pierre Monteux as guest conductor on August 1; Leonard Bernstein on August 8 and 15. An important innovation this season will see the concerts in the 6,000-seat Shed performed consecutively on Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoons, July 31-August 16, with the chamber concerts in the 1,200-seat Concert Hall, as always on Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoons, July 11-26.

This 16th Berkshire Festival since the open-air concerts were inaugurated in the hills of western Massachusetts in 1934, the fourteenth since the Boston Symphony Orchestra participated, will mark the first summer in several seasons when Sunday afternoon concerts will be simultaneously broadcast over a coast-to-coast network. The first portion of the concerts, lasting an hour-and-a-half, on July 26, August 2, 9, and 16, will be carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System as part of its summer program of international music festivals. The Berkshire Festival will be the only American event in weekly programs, commencing Sunday, May 3, which will include broadcasts of the Florence, Salzburg, Bayreuth, Edinburgh Festivals in Europe.

Because the Columbia broadcasts commence at 2:30 p. m. Charles Munch has advanced to that hour all of this season's six Sunday afternoon Berkshire Festival programs which in other years have started at 3 p. m. Although the broadcast portion of the program ends at 4 p. m., Tanglewood audiences will hear the remainder of the concerts, following an intermission.

Music lovers planning to attend the Berkshire Festival concerts still have until June 1 to subscribe to one of the three series of Shed concerts (July 31 to August 16), which entitles them to priority of seating, a saving in price, and admission to any of the six July concerts in the Theatre-Concert Hall. Subscriptions are being handled at the Festival Office, Symphony Hall, Boston 15, Mass., which will file orders received at this time for seats for single concerts and fill them when their sale begins on June 1.

College Glee Club Sets Spring Concert

Women's Glee Club of State University Teachers College at New Paltz will present its annual spring concert, Tuesday, May 5, in the college auditorium. The program will be open to the public, free of charge. Miss Marion H. Harding is the director.

Selections by the Glee Club include: We Who Sing Have Walked in Glory, Bach; Mr. Nicolau, Guarnieri; As Costureiras, Villa-Lobos; Prayer for Family of Nations, Harris; Regnum Mundi, Handel; Two Litanies, first performance, Meyerowitz; In My Orchard, Pearl'd With Dew, If I Have My Jesus, Jean Kelsey and Jacqueline Kirk, soloists.

Abigail Adams' Petition for John Adams by H. Gaul, Shirley Ponte, soloist; The Night Is Young, Suese; Nursery Tune with Variations, French-Wilson; Crawdad Song, American-Wilson; Rockaby, Baby, arr. Wilson.

Yolande Barone, soprano, will sing: Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms, Irish; You'll Never Walk Alone, Rodgers; Marianina, Italian.

Piano selections by Dorothy Helle will include: Scherzo, Chopin, Nocturne, Chopin, and Fantasy Impromptu.

The concert will conclude with the singing of the Alma Mater by the audience and the Glee Club.

Wedding Reception Held in Lomontville

Mr. and Mrs. Farrar O. E. Maidhof attend wedding reception at Lomontville Community hall following their marriage in Hurley on Sunday, April 26. The bride is the former Miss Irmgard Sophie Dedy. (Brentwood photo)

Irmgard Sophie Dedy Becomes Bride of Farrar O. E. Maidhof

Miss Irmgard Sophie Dedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dedy, Lomontville, became the bride of Farrar O. E. Maidhof, son of Mr. and Mrs. Farrar L. Maidhof of Mount Vernon, at 4:30 p. m. on Sunday, April 26, in the Hurley Reformed Church, Hurley. The Rev. John Dykstra, pastor, officiated at the ceremony. A reception for 150 guests was held at the Lomontville Community hall, when music was provided by the Jules Tellier ensemble.

The church was decorated with white gladioli, snapdragons, palms and white candles. Mrs. Gordon Burhans was the organist, and accompanied Floyd Vogt in his vocal selections, the Lord's Prayer, Because, and Through the Years.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported lace and nylon tulle, fashioned with a lace bodice, stand-up collar and long sleeves; and a lace skirt terminating in a train of nylon over satin. Two Take Thrones

Baghdad, Iraq, May 2 (AP)—Two 18-year-old descendents of the prophet Mohammed today ascended the thrones of Iraq and Jordan. Royal salutes of 101 guns boomed out over this storied Iraqi capital as youthful King Faisal II took his simple oath of allegiance to the constitution and loyalty to his people. Across the Middle East's mountains and deserts, Faisal's cousin, 18-year-old King Husein I, became the third reigning monarch of Jordan in a similar ceremony in Amman's tiny parliament house. The two young kings were enthroned at virtually the same moment before overflow crowds of foreign representatives and leaders of their respective countries.

100 Years to Mature

A teak tree must grow for almost 100 years before it is between six and seven feet through at breast height, often considered the best size for harvesting.

Shokan

Shokan, May 2—Mr. and Mrs. J. Roney of Andes were recent callers in the village center. Mr. Roney also called on Cecil Gray of Olive Bridge in the course of the couple's trip to the reservoir country.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilmott have returned to their home at Princes Bay, Staten Island, after having been guests at the Davis and Kelly residences on the West Hurley-Woodstock road. The Wilmotts have planned a trip to the Great Smokies for early summer and they will probably come to this section again in the autumn.

Residents of the twin villages were shocked at news of the sudden death, early Wednesday morning, of the Rev. Milton H. Ryan at his home in Ashokan. Dominie Ryan, an active member of the Olive Legion Post, had served as pastor of the Ashokan, Glenford and West Hurley Methodist Churches during the past three years.

Ralph Elefant, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elefant, is getting about with the aid of a crutch following hospital treatment for a leg injury. Ralph, a KHS student from the lower village, reportedly received a serious wound as the result of the accidental discharge of a pistol three weeks ago.

Callers here the latter part of the week included Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Baker, former Henry street, Kingston, couple who have become residents of Rosendale.

Word was received here last week of the death, Thursday, of Otto Grossman at Miami, Fla. Otto, father of Mrs. Robert DuBois of Ashokan, owned and operated a large boardinghouse in Shokan for several years before going to Florida to make his home.

George Berry, one time Prudential agent for this section, is building a new home along the north side of the Onteora Trail near the rock cut at West Hurley. The buiding adjoins on the east the brick house and two cabins built by the Berrys several years ago.

Hazel Byrne, now of Kingston, has sold her 21-room boardinghouse on the Ashokan mountain road to Kingston people.

The Queen Esther Society of the Glenford Methodist Church plan to repeat their Variety Show Wednesday evening, May 6.

Broken stone is being hauled to the telephone automatic central station where the low ground between the company building and the Ebba Andre bungalow will be filled in to a depth of several feet.

The Mature Parent

Let Your Child Grow Rich In Three Important Values

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One evening last fall some friends and I were listening to a radio address by the Republican candidate for President of this country. In simple words, he touched briefly upon his boyhood struggles.

"I was a poor boy—only I never knew it," said the man who took the responsibility for our military victory in World War 2.

Now, as President of the United States, he has said a few words about Child Health Day, which is being observed today. In an official proclamation, he asked us to "increase our understanding of children's emotional, social and spiritual growth."

This growth is directly related to whether children regard themselves as rich or poor.

The verb "to know" means "to accept as true."

It is wise to bear this definition in mind when Johnny cuts his knee on a stone, tells us a witch is under his bed, gets blackballed by a fraternity or stood up by his girl-friend. For what you and I accept as true about him at these times will either shackle him to a sense of helplessness—or release him to a sense of power.

How we comfort Johnny when he encounters the stone, the witch the black-ball, the stand-up, tests our own emotional and spiritual health as no other service to him can.

If we live in a state of chronic fear of loss through criticism, condemnation and failure, we will transfer that feeling of ourselves as "poor" people to Johnny.

When he cuts his knee on the stone, we will say, "Bad, mean old stone to hurt poor Johnny." When he complains of the "witch" under his bed, we won't be able to present her as a poor thing who has sought a night's lodging under the protection of our generous and powerful little boy.

The work of teaching children to know themselves as rich and powerful must not be written about superficially. Since it is spiritual work of high quality, I am going to remind us that the Bible account of Adam's loss of Paradise involved the knowledge of his "nakedness."

The word does not mean "lack of clothing" Its first dictionary definition is "impoverishment."

With this true meaning in mind, God's question to Adam throws light upon our own parental duty to Johnny. When Adam kept insisting on his poverty, God asked, "Who told you that you were naked?"

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I wonder how many of my readers can guess what year the following happened. Thursday evening, the Barmann Fife and Drum Corps stood in front of Rafferty's store on John St. playing a selection while waiting for the members of the Loronda Club to form in line, preparatory to a short parade through the main uptown streets. Near the bass drum player, stood two members of the Lirondas, igniting their sticks of red fire. The sparks from which sailed through the air and landed on the huge bass drum. The drummer was so absorbed in his work that he never noticed the sparks light on the drum as his gaze was fixed elsewhere. At the cry from someone that "Your drum is afire" he jumped and with a quick fling he slung the drum to the ground smothering the fire.

In the meantime at the yell of "fire" one of the members of the club made a dash for the nearest fire alarm box, and would have turned in an alarm only for the speedy sprint of another member who overtook him just in time. While the excitement was at its height, another member of the club was seen emerging from the doorway of Rafferty's store staggering along under the weight of a complicated fire extinguisher, but he was also stopped before any more damage was done to the drum. As for the drum player, he picked up his drum, and after careful examination concluded that it was uninjured, patted it and continued to play. This happened on John St. in Kingston during the week of Nov. 7th, 1911.

That same month and year the Lane Construction Company was building a state road through Sleightsburg, and almost finished the road down to the chain ferry. They also were placing crushed stone in front of residences along the highway to improve the properties.

Chief of Police Ray Van Buren called me this afternoon to help out a visitor who wanted to learn something about an ancestor of his, our first chief of police, Stephen D. Hood. Dellman Hood drove from Oregon, his home state, on his way down south and stopped in at Kingston for information. Off hand I could not gather all the information but promised I would collect what I could and send it to him, perhaps some readers can add to it.

Chief Hood died at his home on Clinton avenue on June 4, 1908 at the age of 47. He became police chief of Kingston when our police department was first organized in May of 1891 and held that post until his death. Chief Hood, in his youth, was a teacher for two years in town of New Paltz. In August of 1880, he began the study of law in the office of John E. Van Etten in Kingston. He was admitted to the bar on Sept. 12, 1884 around the age of 25. Chief Hood was widely known in Kingston as a tenor soloist, and acted as choirmaster at St. John's Church before it was moved from Wall street. He belonged to Kingston Lodge of Masons, Kosciusko Lodge of Odd Fellows, Franklin Lodge and Knights of Pythias.

Also according to advertisement in 1892 paper, he not only was a lawyer and chief of police but ran the successful Kingston Troy Steam Laundry at 12 Main street. It was just two doors from the old Eagle Hotel in Kingston, New York. The laundry was founded in 1889. It said that Stephen D. Hood, proprietor, and Isaac Hood, the manager, were both natives of New Paltz. They had six experienced and reliable assistants.

The Mongols failed in two attempts to invade Japan in the 13th century.

BOOK REVIEW

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

THE GOLDEN AGE

By Oriana Atkinson

The setting of this novel is also in the Catskills, about 30 miles west of Catskill village.

It is about life in a small settlement called "Atta" in the years preceding, during and just after the War of 1812. This is a sequel to Mrs. Atkinson's earlier book "The Twin Cousins" and many of its characters appear in it.

This is primarily the love story of Freedom Ware, lovely little daugher of Luther Ware, the twin cousin who survived and who runs the "Twin Cousins Inn" with Gretchen, bouncing, boisterous widow of the other cousin and only, spoiled daughter of the wealthy Patroon, Jan Von Smid of Catskill.

Freedom is a winsome, carefree little girl, the petted darling of the tavern patrons, until one awful night when her mother, Content, dies in childbirth, together with her baby, and Freedom is forced to witness her agony because the mid-wife and the old Irish cook were both far gone on a drunken spree, indulged in because everyone else was away at the time. Poor little Freedom's soul was seared by that experience.

Then came the war, taking all the able bodied men and leaving the tavern to Gretchen (now married to Luther); Freedom, her stepsister, Nancy and malicious, lecherous jailbird, Jake Bedell and his silly, inefficient wife, Dicey. Freedom was obliged to help Jake with the coarse stable work where he made her life miserable with his dirty talk and sly tricks. She is treated as a stepchild indeed, while Nancy, Gretchen's own daughter, and a saucy, immoral minx is allowed to do as she pleases, which was usually "Tossing in the hay" to use an expression of those crude times.

Luther is killed in battle, which is another hard blow to Freedom and makes her position at the Inn even more insecure and when her childhood sweetheart, "Pup" Van Loo returns he seems not too sympathetic and so angers Freedom that she sends him away. However from his home in the hills, he returns and after several more trials their path smooths out for a happy ending.

There is a great deal of pioneer Dutch folklore and early Greene county history in the book. Such earthshaking events as the opening of the turnpike through Atta; the first stagecoach to start the run between Atta and Catskill (and a rough ride the first ones were) the amazement of the Catskill villagers at their first sight of a steam driven river vessel, The Clermont, on its trial run from New York to Albany with smart old Jan Von Smid aboard, managing to have the flag run up as she passed the Catskill ferry slip. And an unbelievably lusty and coarse shivaree following an extravagant Dutch wedding.

There are plenty of surprises, such as Gretchen's third marriage, the fitting double punishment of Jake Bedell by which he lost his wife, his money and his clothes; the mystery of old Biddy's death by scalding and many others.

They were crude and immensely alive—our Catskill mountain ancestors.

Mrs. Atkinson has high-lighted in considerable detail their picturesque manners and customs and presented a highly entertaining tale of early Americana.

Chance for Adoption

Washington, May 2 (AP)—South Korean schools, bombed-out and make-shift but jammed with pupils, can be "adopted" by American schools, clubs and other organizations. Milton S. Eisenhower, the President's brother and head of the American-Korean Foundation, told how in a statement yesterday. He said groups which want to help can send food, clothing and food supplies. He said further information can be gained by writing CARE, 660 First avenue, New York city, or the National Education Association, 1201 Sixteenth street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

Sturgeon Pool

A creek dammed back, to fill the hollow spots.
Bowing to the rocks and trees
like Hottentots.
From bank to bank, it's wide
by many feet.
And skippers dance across it
fleet on fleet.
Many fish abound, in deep
or shallow places,
Hugging close the floor, or where the silt and shore embraces.
Sunshine and shadows
shaping silhouettes.
Where trees surround the edge
of curved inlets.
Its countenance is rough
in rugged weather.
Or softly shines, beneath the moon
like polished leather.
It owes its birth to man
and man-made tool.
But God supplies the nutriments
for Sturgeon pool.

Lose No Time

Vienna, May 2 (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia apparently is in such a hurry to train its soldiers that they must get their haircuts on the parade ground. In a direct broadcast from an army exercise ground, radio Prague said today: "While Czechoslovak soldiers march on one side of the parade ground, at the other end you can see 20 white robes. These are soldiers getting their hair cut on chairs in the open air. They sit with their faces watching the marching and with their rifles in their hands." The broadcaster indicated that the open-air haircuts were designed so that the soldiers would lose no time in their military and political education.

Directors to Meet

President Richard S. Jones has called a meeting of the Boys' Club board of directors for Monday at 8 p. m. in the club quarters on Greenkill avenue. At this very important meeting the final touch will be added to plans for the 1953 financial drive, the second week of May. New members on the Boys' Club board of directors are Robert C. Cline, Addison Jones, Amos R. Newcombe and Austin Boyd. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Texas Dirt in N.Y.

New York, May 2 (AP)—When rain carries black and oily soot particles to earth with it, New Yorkers are not a bit surprised. They figure the dirt comes from factory smoke. But yesterday they pondered a redddish, sandy dirt left by a brief afternoon rainfall. Weather Bureau officials said it was probably blown north from drouth-stricken areas in Texas.

Shokan

Shokan, May 2—Mr. and Mrs. J. Roney of Andes were recent callers in the village center. Mr. Roney also called on Cecil Gray of Olive Bridge in the course of the couple's trip to the reservoir country.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilmott have returned to their home at Princes Bay, Staten Island, after having been guests at the Davis and Kelly residences on the West Hurley-Woodstock road. The Wilmotts have planned a trip to the Great Smokies for early summer and they will probably come to this section again in the autumn.

Residents of the twin villages were shocked at news of the sudden death, early Wednesday morning, of the Rev. Milton H. Ryan at his home in Ashokan. Dominie Ryan, an active member of the Olive Legion Post, had served as pastor of the Ashokan, Glenford and West Hurley Methodist Churches during the past three years.

Ralph Elefant, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elefant, is getting about with the aid of a crutch following hospital treatment for a leg injury. Ralph, a KHS student from the lower village, reportedly received a serious wound as the result of the accidental discharge of a pistol three weeks ago.

Callers here the latter part of the week included Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Baker, former Henry street, Kingston, couple who have become residents of Rosendale.

Word was received here last week of the death, Thursday, of Otto Grossman at Miami, Fla. Otto, father of Mrs. Robert DuBois of Ashokan, owned and operated a large boardinghouse in Shokan for several years before going to Florida to make his home.

George Berry, one time Prudential agent for this section, is building a new home along the north side of the Onteora Trail near the rock cut at West Hurley. The buiding adjoins on the east the brick house and two cabins built by the Berrys several years ago.

Hazel Byrne, now of Kingston, has sold her 21-room boardinghouse on the Ashokan mountain road to Kingston people.

The Queen Esther Society of the Glenford Methodist Church plan to repeat their Variety Show Wednesday evening, May 6.

Broken stone is being hauled to the telephone automatic central station where the low ground between the company building and the Ebba Andre bungalow will be filled in to a depth of several feet.

The Mature Parent

Let Your Child Grow Rich In Three Important Values

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One evening last fall some friends and I were listening to a radio address by the Republican candidate for President of this country. In simple words, he touched briefly upon his boyhood struggles.

"I was a poor boy—only I never knew it," said the man who took the responsibility for our military victory in World War 2.

Now, as President of the United States, he has said a few words about Child Health Day, which is being observed today. In an official proclamation, he asked us to "increase our understanding of children's emotional, social and spiritual growth."

This growth is directly related to whether children regard themselves as rich or poor.

The verb "to know" means "to accept as true."

It is wise to bear this definition in mind when Johnny cuts his knee on a stone, tells us a witch is under his bed, gets blackballed by a fraternity or stood up by his girl-friend. For what you and I accept as true about him at these times will either shackle him to a sense of helplessness—or release him to a sense of power.

How we comfort Johnny when he encounters the stone, the witch the black-ball, the stand-up, tests our own emotional and spiritual health as no other service to him can.

If we live in a state of chronic fear of loss through criticism, condemnation and failure, we will transfer that feeling of ourselves as "poor" people to Johnny.

When he cuts his knee on the stone, we will say, "Bad, mean old stone to hurt poor Johnny." When he complains of the "witch" under his bed, we won't be able to present her as a poor thing who has sought a night's lodging under the protection of our generous and powerful little boy.

The work of teaching children to know themselves as rich and powerful must not be written about superficially. Since it is spiritual work of high quality, I am going to remind us that the Bible account of Adam's loss of Paradise involved the knowledge of his "nakedness."

The word does not mean "lack of clothing" Its first dictionary definition is "impoverishment."

With this true meaning in mind, God's question to Adam throws light upon our own parental duty to Johnny. When Adam kept insisting on his poverty, God asked, "Who told you that you were naked?"

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

I wonder how many of my readers can guess what year the following happened. Thursday evening, the Barmann Fife and Drum Corps stood in front of Rafferty's store on John St. playing a selection while waiting for the members of the Loronda Club to form in line, preparatory to a short parade through the main uptown streets. Near the bass drum player, stood two members of the Lirondas, igniting their sticks of red fire. The sparks from which sailed through the air and landed on the huge bass drum. The drummer was so absorbed in his work that he never noticed the sparks light on the drum as his gaze was fixed elsewhere. At the cry from someone that "Your drum is afire" he jumped and with a quick fling he slung the drum to the ground smothering the fire.

In the meantime at the yell of "fire" one of the members of the club made a dash for the nearest fire alarm box, and would have turned in an alarm only for the speedy sprint of another member who overtook him just in time. While the excitement was at its height, another member of the club was seen emerging from the doorway of Rafferty's store staggering along under the weight of a complicated fire extinguisher, but he was also stopped before any more damage was done to the drum. As for the drum player, he picked up his drum, and after careful examination concluded that it was uninjured, patted it and continued to play. This happened on John St. in Kingston during the week of Nov. 7th, 1911.

That same month and year the Lane Construction Company was building a state road through Sleightsburg, and almost finished the road down to the chain ferry. They also were placing crushed stone in front of residences along the highway to improve the properties.

Chief of Police Ray Van Buren called me this afternoon to help out a visitor who wanted to learn something about an ancestor of his, our first chief of police, Stephen D. Hood. Dellman Hood drove from Oregon, his home state, on his way down south and stopped in at Kingston for information. Off hand I could not gather all the information but promised I would collect what I could and send it to him, perhaps some readers can add to it.

Chief Hood died at his home on Clinton avenue on June 4, 1908 at the age of 47. He became police chief of Kingston when our police department was first organized in May of 1891 and held that post until his death. Chief Hood, in his youth, was a teacher for two years in town of New Paltz. In August of 1880, he began the study of law in the office of John E. Van Etten in Kingston. He was admitted to the bar on Sept. 12, 1884 around the age of 25. Chief Hood was widely known in Kingston as a tenor soloist, and acted as choirmaster at St. John's Church before it was moved from Wall street. He belonged to Kingston Lodge of Masons, Kosciusko Lodge of Odd Fellows, Franklin Lodge and Knights of Pythias.

Also according to advertisement in 1892 paper, he not only was a lawyer and chief of police but ran the successful Kingston Troy Steam Laundry at 12 Main street. It was just two doors from the old Eagle Hotel in Kingston, New York. The laundry was founded in 1889. It said that Stephen D. Hood, proprietor, and Isaac Hood, the manager, were both natives of New Paltz. They had six experienced and reliable assistants.

THE GOLDEN AGE
By Oriana Atkinson

The setting of this novel is also in the Catskills, about 30 miles west of Catskill village.

It is about life in a small settlement called "Atta" in the years preceding, during and just after the War of 1812. This is a sequel to Mrs. Atkinson's earlier book "The Twin Cousins" and many of its characters appear in it.

This is primarily the love story of Freedom Ware, lovely little daugher of Luther Ware, the twin cousin who survived and who runs the "Twin Cousins Inn" with Gretchen, bouncing, boisterous widow of the other cousin and only, spoiled daughter of the wealthy Patroon, Jan Von Smid of Catskill.

Freedom is a winsome, carefree little girl, the petted darling of the tavern patrons, until one awful night when her mother, Content, dies in childbirth, together with her baby, and Freedom is forced to witness her agony because the mid-wife and the old Irish cook were both far gone on a drunken spree, indulged in because everyone else was away at the time. Poor little Freedom's soul was seared by that experience.

Then came the war, taking all the able bodied men and leaving the tavern to Gretchen (now married to Luther); Freedom, her stepsister, Nancy and malicious, lecherous jailbird, Jake Bedell and his silly, inefficient wife, Dicey. Freedom was obliged to help Jake with the coarse stable work where he made her life miserable with his dirty talk and sly tricks. She is treated as a stepchild indeed, while Nancy, Gretchen's own daughter, and a saucy, immoral minx is allowed to do as she pleases, which was usually "Tossing in the hay" to use an expression of those crude times.

Luther is killed in battle, which is another hard blow to Freedom and makes her position at the Inn even more insecure and when her childhood sweetheart, "Pup" Van Loo returns he seems not too sympathetic and so angers Freedom that she sends him away. However from his home in the hills, he returns and after several more trials their path smooths out for a happy ending.

There is a great deal of pioneer Dutch folklore and early Greene county history in the book. Such earthshaking events as the opening of the turnpike through Atta; the first stagecoach to start the run between Atta and Catskill (and a rough ride the first ones were) the amazement of the Catskill villagers at their first sight of a steam driven river vessel, The Clermont, on its trial run from New York to Albany with smart old Jan Von Smid aboard, managing to have the flag run up as she passed the Catskill ferry slip. And an unbelievably lusty and coarse shivaree following an extravagant Dutch wedding.

There are plenty of surprises, such as Gretchen's third marriage, the fitting double punishment of Jake Bedell by which he lost his wife, his money and his clothes; the mystery of old Biddy's death by scalding and many others.

They were crude and immensely alive—our Catskill mountain ancestors.

Mrs. Atkinson has high-lighted in considerable detail their picturesque manners and customs and presented a highly entertaining tale of early Americana.

Chance for Adoption

Washington, May 2 (AP)—South Korean schools, bombed-out and make-shift but jammed with pupils, can be "adopted" by American schools, clubs and other organizations. Milton S. Eisenhower, the President's brother and head of the American-Korean Foundation, told how in a statement yesterday. He said groups which want to help can send food, clothing and food supplies. He said further information can be gained by writing CARE, 660 First avenue, New York city, or the National Education Association, 1201 Sixteenth street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

Sturgeon Pool

A creek dammed back, to fill
the hollow spots.
Bowing to the rocks and trees
like Hottentots.
From bank to bank, it's wide
by many feet.
And skippers dance across it
fleet on fleet.
Many fish abound, in deep
or shallow places,
Hugging close the floor, or where the silt and shore embraces.
Sunshine and shadows
shaping silhouettes.
Where trees surround the edge
of curved inlets.
Its countenance is rough
in rugged weather.
Or softly shines, beneath the moon
like polished leather.
It owes its birth to man
and man-made tool.
But God supplies the nutriments
for Sturgeon pool.

MABEL DEPUY

Modena

Modena, May 1—A satisfactory attendance was made at the Open House Tuesday night at the Modent school when work done by the pupils during the past year was exhibited and inspected by parents and friends of the young people. Similar exhibitions were conducted in various schools in the Wallkill Centralized Districts and Wednesday night at the Wallkill School.

A number of local people attended the baked ham supper served Wednesday night at the Plattekill Grange Hall and the social dance which followed the supper. Music was furnished by the Kentucky Moonshiners.

Attention is called to the regular meeting of the public health nursing society of the town of Plattekill slated Tuesday, May 5, at the home of Mrs. Earl B. DeWitt, Sr., at 8 p. m.

Lester A. Wager, Sr., was a caller in Kingston Wednesday.

Fruit growers in this section report slight damage to budding trees from the severe hail which accompanied the electric storm Sunday night.

Lose No Time

Vienna, May 2 (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia apparently is in such a hurry to train its soldiers that they must get their haircuts on the parade ground. In a direct broadcast from an army exercise ground, radio Prague said today: "While Czechoslovak soldiers march on one side of the parade ground, at the other end you can see 20 white robes. These are soldiers getting their hair cut on chairs in the open air. They sit with their faces watching the marching and with their rifles in their hands." The broadcaster indicated that the open-air haircuts were designed so that the soldiers would lose no time in their military and political education.

Directors to Meet

President Richard S. Jones has called a meeting of the Boys' Club board of directors for Monday at 8 p. m. in the club quarters on Greenkill avenue. At this very important meeting the final touch will be added to plans for the 1953 financial drive, the second week of May. New members on the Boys' Club board of directors are Robert C. Cline, Addison Jones, Amos R. Newcombe and Austin Boyd. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Texas Dirt in N.Y.

New York, May 2 (AP)—When rain carries black and oily soot particles to earth with it, New Yorkers are not a bit surprised. They figure the dirt comes from factory smoke. But yesterday they pondered a redddish, sandy dirt left by a brief afternoon rainfall. Weather Bureau officials said it was probably blown north from drouth-stricken areas in Texas.

A famous industrialist asked his little son what he would like for Christmas.

Boy—A baby brother.

The father being well versed in engineering objected to the suggestion in a mild way by saying:

Father—But it's only 10 days to Christmas, and of course that does not give me enough time.

Boy—I know. (Ignorant of the labor shortage, went on to suggest) Can't you put more men on the job?

2nd Division Teams Still Patsies for the Dodgers

Shades of '52. Those nasty Brooklyn Bums are fattening up on the pore little second division teams again.

The terrors of Flatbush won the National League pennant last year by feasting on the last four teams. And today, after a 10-day absence, they're back in first place after a strict diet of the lower placed teams.

The Dodgers won their fourth straight last night, a 6-5 uphill battle with the fifth place Chicago Cubs. Prior to that they had won three straight from the last place Cincinnati Reds. And of their earlier victories three came over the seventh place New York Giants and three over the sixth place Pittsburgh Pirates.

On their only ventures against first division opposition, the Bums got spanked three times running by the Philadelphia Phillies.

A year ago Brooklyn won 67 games and lost only 20 against the four second division clubs. It had a poor 29-37 record with the three other first division outfits.

Beat Leonard

Last night's Brooklyn star was veteran Peewee Reese who connected with a Dutch Leonard knuckleball in the eighth inning and drilled it into the lower left-field seats at Ebbets Field with a runner on base.

Leonard lasted just long enough in relief of starter Turk Lown to be charged with the defeat, his first this year. Russ Meyer picked up the Brooklyn victory which, combined with a 5-2 loss by the Phillies to Milwaukee, put the Dodgers in first place.

In other National League action the Pittsburgh Pirates won their third in a row—their longest winning streak in almost two years—at the expense of Cincinnati, 8-3, and the St. Louis Cardinals edged New York, 3-2, in the only day game.

Lemon Squeezed

The Boston Red Sox pasted the first 1953 defeat on Cleveland's Bob Lemon by an 8-1 count. Lemon had won three. Detroit broke a six game losing streak at the expense of Philadelphia, 7-3. Washington nipped St. Louis, 6-5, as relief pitcher Sonny Dixon struck out the last three Brownies with the bases loaded, and the Chicago White Sox weathered a series of late New York rallies to beat the Yanks, 6-5, in a three-hour struggle at Chicago.

Boston's victory at Cleveland was the fourth in a row for the fuzzy faced Sox and moved them into fourth place. Marv Grissom, at 35, one of the few old men on the Boston roster, got the decision. The only run against him was a home run by Larry Doby in the fourth.

Yank Rally Fails

Trailing 5-1 after six innings the Yankees rallied for a pair of runs in the seventh, two more in the eight and filled the bases with one out in the ninth before Saul Rogovin, who has had no luck as a starter this year, came in to strike out Yogi Berra and get Billy Martin on a sinking liner to right field. The run that made the difference for the White Sox came in the last of the seventh when Jim Rivera walked, stole second, moved to third on an infield out and scored on a single by Chico Carrasquel.

The fast fading Phillies, who now have lost four and tied one in their last five starts, were held at bay by righthander Jim Wilson who contributed a home run to the 10-hit Milwaukee attack. Joe Adcock and Andy Pafko also homered for the Braves.

The Cardinals extended their unbeaten tour of the east at the expense of Dave Koslo, a lefthander who has stayed in the majors mainly on his ability to beat St. Louis.

Gloves Champions Slated

Three Adirondack AAU and Niagara District Golden Gloves champions will meet New York Golden Gloves standouts in the amateur boxing headliners on Saturday, May 9, at the municipal auditorium.

The boxing show is promoted by Fred Davi as a benefit for the Glasco Athletic Club.

Jimmy Voss, of Utica, the District 6 and Niagara District 160-pound kingpin, will meet Shepherd Franklin, New York Golden Glove 155-pound champion in the five-round main event.

Voss advanced to the semi-finals of the National AAU championships. He is managed by "Bushy" Graham of Utica, former world's bantamweight champion.

East-West Winner

Joe Poma, Utica, the District 135-pound champion, a native of Paris, France, who has been in this country only two years, is paired against Henry Smith, the New York champion.

Smith was one of the few New York winners in the annual East-West tournament. Also an Eastern All Star winner in 1952, he is a crack prospect.

The first five-rounder sends Danny Cira, of Utica, runnerup in the District 147-pound championship against Joe Thomer of the New York CYO and Golden Gloves squad. Cira won his bout last year in the finals of the U. S.-Canadian competition.

Pete Mello, former Olympic boxing champion, and Daily News Golden Gloves squad trainer for several years will handle the New York boxers.

The card will consist of three five-rounders and five three-rounds, eight bouts in all. Glasco Athletic Club performers will appear in the prelims to be announced later.

Pitching—Sonny Dixon, Washington Senators, came in as a relief pitcher with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth inning against St. Louis and struck out the side to save a 6-5 victory for Washington.

Leo's Displeasure Hints Dark Is Back in Giants' Doghouse

New York, May 2 (AP)—Manager Leo Durocher didn't like the way Al Dark played shortstop yesterday when his New York Giants lost a 3-2 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Leo was upset because Dark failed to throw out Rip Repulski on an infield roller in the third inning. It was the first hit off loser Dave Koslo, starting a five-hit inning that gave St. Louis all three runs.

Dark moved a few steps to his left, seemed to slip a bit and he came up with the ball and threw weakly to first. Whitey Lockman had to stretch for the throw. Repulski got there first. Koslo got the next two out. Then came four straight singles.

"He should have fielded the ball easy," said Durocher. "It was an easy play. He just lobbed it over.

"Koslo should have had a shutout. He pitched a hell of a game."

Durocher was not critical of a base hit by Stan Musial later in the same inning when Dark slipped as he tried to make a play.

"He slipped on the Musial play," said Leo. "The field was pretty wet. I'm not talking about that at all. But I think he should have had Repulski."

At Odds Before

During spring training there was a reported split between Durocher and Dark over a plan to move Dark out of his shortstop job and install rookie Daryl Spencer at the position. Dark denied he had balked at the move.

Spencer opened the season at third base but was benched Thursday for weak hitting. His average was .184 for the first 13 games.

Dark has had trouble with his hitting although his two-run homer yesterday gave the Giants their only runs. He was dropped from second to seventh in the revised batting order Thursday when Spencer was benched. His batting average is .228.

Asked if he planned to make any change in the infield, Durocher refused to comment.

He told one reporter, however, "Spencer may be back in there real soon," he didn't say at what position.

Woodstock Club's Opener Features Member-Guest

Heavy Calendar For 1953 Season

Woodstock Country Club launches the most intensive competitive season in its history with an 18-hole Member-Guest tournament today.

The Tournament Committee has released its seasonal calendar which winds up on Sunday, Sept. 6, with the 36-hole club championship finals.

Triple Winner

FYL Tryouts

Fraternal Youth League tryouts for boys 13 years of age will continue Monday evening at Hasbrouck Park at 6:15 p. m. All candidates in that age bracket are urged to report on that date. The 14-15 year boys will register and try out on Wednesday evening at Hasbrouck Park.

Robinson's 592 First in Classic

George Robinson led the next-to-the-last night of the Classic League last night with a 592 triple. He racked up 222-187-183.

Greco Bros. jolted Esso Standard in three straight and left them a game behind Barrow's Motors, who dropped two to Modjeska's. The leaders clash in next week's finale.

Gavilan on TV

Maroons in Action

Kingston High's undefeated tennis squad meets Ellenville in a DUSO League match there on Monday at 4:30 p. m. The baseball nine is scheduled that same day at Port Jervis.

Onteora Shades Tri-Valley, 5-4

Onteora Central's baseball nine notches its first victory of the season by shading Tri-Valley, 5-4, behind the five-hit pitching of Ollis Crawford.

A three-run uprising in the top of the seventh broke a 2-2 tie and nullified a counter play by Tri-Valley in the bottom of the last frame.

Crawford permitted five hits and fanned 13 batters. The Onteora tossers collected seven off McNamara, including two by Bob Shultis. But Crawford also walked 13.

Grey had a double and McNamara a triple for the losers.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

What the bowling mob is wondering about. How good is this Harry Sinstack of Oneonta whom Johnny Ferraro is taking on as a partner in the $1000 doubles match against two Utica sharpies? The action tonight at the Bowlodrome is the first major test since Ferraro bowed to Tony Sparando. Even with a "700" or "800" it is tough to stay up in the Big Five in the national rankings. When Ferraro shot his phenomenal "818" it ranged fourth, has since been pushed down to fifth. Elizabeth Egan's 722 dipped even lower, from fourth to ninth, with two keglerettes ahead of her being credited with a pair of "700" blasts. The national men's leader is Jim Lago of Teaneck with 834. Ann Karrer, of Philadelphia, who rolled a 20-game match against Rose Schatzel about five years ago, heads the distaff contingent with 750.

• Westrum a Worryin'?

Likeable Wes Westrum of the New York Giants has his legion of mid-Hudson rooters worried. Shackled by a batting slump the fautless receiver is getting heavy pressure from Sam Calderone and Sal Yvars. There is no faulting Westrum as a receiver. He rates right up there with Roy Campanella and is as true as a bird dog on pop flies. But Calderone and Yvars are both likely to swing more lumber and Leo Durocher is thinking. Jerry Mitchell, the baseball writer, predicts Westrum will wind up with the Cubs in a trade for Bob Rush, the Chicago swifty. Sprague Electric of Woodstock, a local Little League sponsor, also is represented by a team in the North Adams, Mass., small fry circuit. William "Pucker" Davis, the hardy perennial, tried desperately to land a fifth franchise for the City League. Gustav Koch, a great all-around athlete at Kingston High has signed a contract to teach physical education and coach at West Canada Valley School, Middleville, Herkimer county during the next academic year. Schmidt Flops Melby Not Twice, But Thrice

$1,000 Match Tonight

Johnny Ferraro of Kingston and Harry Sinstack of Oneonta will team against Roger Detore and Joe Cariglio of Utica in the first block of a 20-game doubles match for $1,000.

The second block will be rolled Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the Utica Recreation.

Sinstack is Oneonta's top match game shooter, while the other three principals are "200" average shooters.

Local Fans See Unusual Move

Hans Schmidt, the Vienna pachyderm, who must have been the meanest man in town last night, gave the professional wrestling addicts a baker's dozen treat at the municipal auditorium.

Some 600 of them saw Schmidt go beyond normal procedure in scoring three falls over Wild Bill Melby, 218, of St. Louis, in the main bout.

Schmidt won the first fall in 18 minutes with a slam and body press and the third and deciding fall in 2:10 with another press. Melby copped the middle fall in 10:20 with a Boston crab.

Both contestants appeared to be anxious to continue and it was okay with Referee Chick Gaynor. With his consent, Schmidt and Melby resumed their brawling and 4:12 later Schmidt had pinned Melby for the third time.

It was a typical Schmidt-Melby brawl, replete with police, screaming ladies and a slight rhubarb involving an indiscreet lady with a hatpin.

McCoy Wins

Bibber McCoy, 242, Cambridge, Mass., the former Holy Cross football star, flipped Joe Muscato, 225, Buffalo, in the semi-final.

McCoy tossed the former heavyweight boxer in 2:12 with a body press. Muscato squared matters with a body slam at 9:00. The deciding fall went to McCoy at 8:00 with a Boston crab.

Steve Gob, 218, Bayonne, N. J., demolished Joe Marsh, 222, Hollywood, with a flying scissors hold in 22:05 of the opening bout.

Drew Tossers Defeat State At Home, 7-5

Drew University pounced on Dick King for six runs in the third and fourth innings to edge New Paltz State, 7-5, in baseball yesterday at Drew.

Coach Campbell's tossers temporarily wiped out a 3-0 deficit with four runs in the fourth but Drew regained the lead 6-4. King and Mertins, the Drew flinger, permitted only one run each the rest of the way.

New Paltz collected seven hits, including a three-run triple in the fourth and double by Floyd Mott.

Blomberg, Ceittleman and pitcher Mertins each had two hits for Drew.

Jones Keglers Fail to Crash State Money

The No. 2 squad, powered by Bill Kuehn's 233-571 hit an out-of-the-money 2733 and the No. 1 trundlers posted 2722, with Ken Williams hitting 214-555.

Best doubles gross was the 1198 by George Flemings and Ad Jones, the former shooting 223-594.

Tiger Jones Wants Saxton In Next Bout

New York, May 2 (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, all even with Jimmy Herring after reversing a 1952 decision, now wants to square accounts with Johnny Saxton.

"This is one I wanted," said Jones last night after winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Herring in a nationally televised bout at St. Nicholas Arena. "Now I want Saxton."

Billy Brown, Madison Square Garden matchmaker, has no open dates at the moment but he'll try to oblige—if Saxton's willing.

"I tried to knock him out in the first six rounds," said Jones. "I punched myself out. I sprained my left thumb in the ninth."

Jones floored Herring for an eight count with a right in the second. He shook him up again in the sixth when Herring staggered but didn't drop. Jones was down himself for a non-count knockdown in the fifth. At first Referee Al Berl called it a slip but changed his mind between rounds.

Jones, weighing 154 to Herring 159, received all three votes. Referee Berl scored it 5-3-2. Judge Jack Gordon 6-3-1 and Judge Frank Rorbes 6-4. The AP card was 6-4 also.

Schatzel Leads Classic on 569

Rose Schatzel's 569 (155-224-190) paced a brisk scoring session of the Woman's Classic League last night at the Bowlodrome.

Runnerup Bev Port fired 212-548 and Charlotte Lapine hammered 212-546.

Other top shooters included Elizabeth Egan 200-537, Ada Markle 208-536, Mary Wyant 529, Emma Pratt 507, Elizabeth Bruck 505, Doris Prendergast 500, Bertha Schaller 493, Tess Moss 482, Phyllis Roosa 481.

Team results:

Manhattan Bails 2, San Bar 1; Rowe's Shoe Store 2, Regina's 1; Bruck Funeral Home 2, R. Meyer Jewelers 1; State Diner 2, Perry's Taxi 1; Kaye Sportwair 2, Alpine 1.

Rochester Kegler Leads All-Events

Rochester, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Ollie Yockel, of Rochester, moved into first place last night in the all-events of the New York State men's bowling tournament here.

Yockel bowled 2,026 to bump Vic Cipani, also of Rochester, from the top spot. Cipani had a score of 1,968.

The new fourth-place man in the all-events was W. Duffy, Rochester, who rolled 1,963. Tod Di Tucci of Rochester holds third place.

In the singles event, Francis Miller, of Geneseo, rolled 727, including a 111-pin handicap, to take over second place. Charles Hart, of Auburn, was knocked out of this position in the standings.

There were no changes in the doubles and team events.

2nd Division Teams Still Patsies for the Dodgers

Shades of '52. Those nasty Brooklyn Bums are fattening up on the pore little second division teams again.

The terrors of Flatbush won the National League pennant last year by feasting on the last four teams. And today, after a 10-day absence, they're back in first place after a strict diet of the lower placed teams.

The Dodgers won their fourth straight last night, a 6-5 uphill battle with the fifth place Chicago Cubs. Prior to that they had won three straight from the last place Cincinnati Reds. And of their earlier victories three came over the seventh place New York Giants and three over the sixth place Pittsburgh Pirates.

On their only ventures against first division opposition, the Bums got spanked three times running by the Philadelphia Phillies.

A year ago Brooklyn won 67 games and lost only 20 against the four second division clubs. It had a poor 29-37 record with the three other first division outfits.

Beat Leonard

Last night's Brooklyn star was veteran Peewee Reese who connected with a Dutch Leonard knuckleball in the eighth inning and drilled it into the lower left-field seats at Ebbets Field with a runner on base.

Leonard lasted just long enough in relief of starter Turk Lown to be charged with the defeat, his first this year. Russ Meyer picked up the Brooklyn victory which, combined with a 5-2 loss by the Phillies to Milwaukee, put the Dodgers in first place.

In other National League action the Pittsburgh Pirates won their third in a row—their longest winning streak in almost two years—at the expense of Cincinnati, 8-3, and the St. Louis Cardinals edged New York, 3-2, in the only day game.

Lemon Squeezed

The Boston Red Sox pasted the first 1953 defeat on Cleveland's Bob Lemon by an 8-1 count. Lemon had won three. Detroit broke a six game losing streak at the expense of Philadelphia, 7-3. Washington nipped St. Louis, 6-5, as relief pitcher Sonny Dixon struck out the last three Brownies with the bases loaded, and the Chicago White Sox weathered a series of late New York rallies to beat the Yanks, 6-5, in a three-hour struggle at Chicago.

Boston's victory at Cleveland was the fourth in a row for the fuzzy faced Sox and moved them into fourth place. Marv Grissom, at 35, one of the few old men on the Boston roster, got the decision. The only run against him was a home run by Larry Doby in the fourth.

Yank Rally Fails

Trailing 5-1 after six innings the Yankees rallied for a pair of runs in the seventh, two more in the eight and filled the bases with one out in the ninth before Saul Rogovin, who has had no luck as a starter this year, came in to strike out Yogi Berra and get Billy Martin on a sinking liner to right field. The run that made the difference for the White Sox came in the last of the seventh when Jim Rivera walked, stole second, moved to third on an infield out and scored on a single by Chico Carrasquel.

The fast fading Phillies, who now have lost four and tied one in their last five starts, were held at bay by righthander Jim Wilson who contributed a home run to the 10-hit Milwaukee attack. Joe Adcock and Andy Pafko also homered for the Braves.

The Cardinals extended their unbeaten tour of the east at the expense of Dave Koslo, a lefthander who has stayed in the majors mainly on his ability to beat St. Louis.

Gloves Champions Slated

Three Adirondack AAU and Niagara District Golden Gloves champions will meet New York Golden Gloves standouts in the amateur boxing headliners on Saturday, May 9, at the municipal auditorium.

The boxing show is promoted by Fred Davi as a benefit for the Glasco Athletic Club.

Jimmy Voss, of Utica, the District 6 and Niagara District 160-pound kingpin, will meet Shepherd Franklin, New York Golden Glove 155-pound champion in the five-round main event.

Voss advanced to the semi-finals of the National AAU championships. He is managed by "Bushy" Graham of Utica, former world's bantamweight champion.

Franklin is a product of the CYO ranks and captured the 155-pound crown in last year's Daily News tournament.

East-West Winner

Joe Poma, Utica, the District 135-pound champion, a native of Paris, France, who has been in this country only two years, is paired against Henry Smith, the New York champion.

Smith was one of the few New York winners in the annual East-West tournament. Also an Eastern All Star winner in 1952, he is a crack prospect.

The first five-rounder sends Danny Cira, of Utica, runnerup in the District 147-pound championship against Joe Thomer of the New York CYO and Golden Gloves squad. Cira won his bout last year in the finals of the U. S.-Canadian competition.

Pete Mello, former Olympic boxing champion, and Daily News Golden Gloves squad trainer for several years will handle the New York boxers.

The card will consist of three five-rounders and five three-rounds, eight bouts in all. Glasco Athletic Club performers will appear in the prelims to be announced later.

Leo's Displeasure Hints Dark Is Back in Giants' Doghouse

New York, May 2 (AP)—Manager Leo Durocher didn't like the way Al Dark played shortstop yesterday when his New York Giants lost a 3-2 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Leo was upset because Dark failed to throw out Rip Repulski on an infield roller in the third inning. It was the first hit off loser Dave Koslo, starting a five-hit inning that gave St. Louis all three runs.

Dark moved a few steps to his left, seemed to slip a bit and he came up with the ball and threw weakly to first. Whitey Lockman had to stretch for the throw. Repulski got there first. Koslo got the next two out. Then came four straight singles.

"He should have fielded the ball easy," said Durocher. "It was an easy play. He just lobbed it over.

"Koslo should have had a shutout. He pitched a hell of a game."

Durocher was not critical of a base hit by Stan Musial later in the same inning when Dark slipped as he tried to make a play.

"He slipped on the Musial play," said Leo. "The field was pretty wet. I'm not talking about that at all. But I think he should have had Repulski."

At Odds Before

During spring training there was a reported split between Durocher and Dark over a plan to move Dark out of his shortstop job and install rookie Daryl Spencer at the position. Dark denied he had balked at the move.

Spencer opened the season at third base but was benched Thursday for weak hitting. His average was .184 for the first 13 games.

Dark has had trouble with his hitting although his two-run homer yesterday gave the Giants their only runs. He was dropped from second to seventh in the revised batting order Thursday when Spencer was benched. His batting average is .228.

Asked if he planned to make any change in the infield, Durocher refused to comment.

He told one reporter, however, "Spencer may be back in there real soon," he didn't say at what position.

Woodstock Club's Opener Features Member-Guest

Heavy Calendar For 1953 Season

Woodstock Country Club launches the most intensive competitive season in its history with an 18-hole Member-Guest tournament today.

The Tournament Committee has released its seasonal calendar which winds up on Sunday, Sept. 6, with the 36-hole club championship finals.

Other high spots include participation in "National Golf Day" on Saturday, May 23; the Herdegen Memorial tournament qualifying round in June.

The second annual Warren Townley Memorial tournament will be held on July 4th-5th, over the 36-hole route, with the Calcutta auction after 18 holes.

The Woodstock Open which attracts the finest professionals in the Northeastern PGA and the mid-Hudson district is scheduled on Friday, Aug. 21.

Finals of the ladies championship tournament are carded for Sunday, Aug. 16.

Course Refurbished

Woodstock Country Club members will be playing on improved facilities, with further improvements planned during the season.

Pro Jim Hutchins' shop has been enlarged, with additional space for the golf racks and merchandise display. There will be a new kitchen crew and new bartender.

In addition to the golf calendar, the usual quota of social events has been planned by the House Committee.

Triple Winner

Yonkers, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Adios Hal, a six-year-old pacer, became the first three time winner of the Yonkers Raceway meeting by winning the first division of the Fordham last night. Dalton Hodgins drove the winner home over a good track in 2:10

FYL Tryouts

Fraternal Youth League tryouts for boys 13 years of age will continue Monday evening at Hasbrouck Park at 6:15 p. m. All candidates in that age bracket are urged to report on that date. The 14-15 year boys will register and try out on Wednesday evening at Hasbrouck Park.

Robinson's 592 First in Classic

George Robinson led the next-to-the-last night of the Classic League last night with a 592 triple. He racked up 222-187-183.

Greco Bros. jolted Esso Standard in three straight and left them a game behind Barrow's Motors, who dropped two to Modjeska's. The leaders clash in next week's finale.

Trailing Robinson was Ralph Talleur with 215-581. Harold Broskie fired 221-576, Pete Fabiano 202-568, Fred Ferraro 548, Joe Ausanio 205-544, Barney Fowler 207-536, Bill Murray 534, Chris Robinson 534, Ronnie Mauro 207-528, Joe Brown 204-527.

Modjeska's 2, Barrow's Motors 1; Greco Bros. 3, Esso Standard 0; Jo-Al's 2, Central Hudson 1; Ballantine's 3, Newcombe Oil 0.

Gavilan on TV

Maroons in Action

Kingston High's undefeated tennis squad meets Ellenville in a DUSO League match there on Monday at 4:30 p. m. The baseball nine is scheduled that same day at Port Jervis.

Onteora Shades Tri-Valley, 5-4

Onteora Central's baseball nine notches its first victory of the season by shading Tri-Valley, 5-4, behind the five-hit pitching of Ollis Crawford.

A three-run uprising in the top of the seventh broke a 2-2 tie and nullified a counter play by Tri-Valley in the bottom of the last frame.

Crawford permitted five hits and fanned 13 batters. The Onteora tossers collected seven off McNamara, including two by Bob Shultis. But Crawford also walked 13.

Grey had a double and McNamara a triple for the losers.

The best dollar buy in sports is still the Sportsman's Digest of Fishing. If you're a real outdoor man, you won't want to be without this gold mine of outdoor information. Edited by Hal Sharp, whose syndicated feature appears daily on the sports pages of The Freeman, it can be purchased at the Freeman offices or secured by mail.

● Flotsam and Jetsam:

What the bowling mob is wondering about. How good is this Harry Sinstack of Oneonta whom Johnny Ferraro is taking on as a partner in the $1000 doubles match against two Utica sharpies? The action tonight at the Bowlodrome is the first major test since Ferraro bowed to Tony Sparando. Even with a "700" or "800" it is tough to stay up in the Big Five in the national rankings. When Ferraro shot his phenomenal "818" it ranged fourth, has since been pushed down to fifth. Elizabeth Egan's 722 dipped even lower, from fourth to ninth, with two keglerettes ahead of her being credited with a pair of "700" blasts. The national men's leader is Jim Lago of Teaneck with 834. Ann Karrer, of Philadelphia, who rolled a 20-game match against Rose Schatzel about five years ago, heads the distaff contingent with 750.

● Westrum a Worryin'?

Likeable Wes Westrum of the New York Giants has his legion of mid-Hudson rooters worried. Shackled by a batting slump the fautless receiver is getting heavy pressure from Sam Calderone and Sal Yvars. There is no faulting Westrum as a receiver. He rates right up there with Roy Campanella and is as true as a bird dog on pop flies. But Calderone and Yvars are both likely to swing more lumber and Leo Durocher is thinking. Jerry Mitchell, the baseball writer, predicts Westrum will wind up with the Cubs in a trade for Bob Rush, the Chicago swifty. Sprague Electric of Woodstock, a local Little League sponsor, also is represented by a team in the North Adams, Mass., small fry circuit. William "Pucker" Davis, the hardy perennial, tried desperately to land a fifth franchise for the City League. Gustav Koch, a great all-around athlete at Kingston High has signed a contract to teach physical education and coach at West Canada Valley School, Middleville, Herkimer county during the next academic year. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Koch of 139 W. Chester street, Gus is a graduate of Ithaca College. He has been coaching basketball and baseball at Jefferson, Schoharie county, for the last two years.

$1,000 Match Tonight

The biggest stake match in Kingston bowling history takes place at 7:30 this evening at the Ferraro Bowlodrome.

Johnny Ferraro of Kingston and Harry Sinstack of Oneonta will team against Roger Detore and Joe Cariglio of Utica in the first block of a 20-game doubles match for $1,000.

The second block will be rolled Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the Utica Recreation.

Sinstack is Oneonta's top match game shooter, while the other three principals are "200" average shooters.

Drew Tossers Defeat State At Home, 7-5

Drew University pounced on Dick King for six runs in the third and fourth innings to edge New Paltz State, 7-5, in baseball yesterday at Drew.

Coach Campbell's tossers temporarily wiped out a 3-0 deficit with four runs in the fourth but Drew regained the lead 6-4. King and Mertins, the Drew flinger, permitted only one run each the rest of the way.

New Paltz collected seven hits, including a three-run triple in the fourth and double by Floyd Mott.

Blomberg, Ceittleman and pitcher Mertins each had two hits for Drew.

Jones Keglers Fail to Crash State Money

Two Jones Dairy squads crashed the New York state tournament prize list only in the singles in weekend firing at Rochester.

Mitzie Arlensky, a member of the No. 2 team, fired 649 gross singles and Addison Jones, sponsor, posted 617. The "600" by Arlensky was the only one in any of the events for the Kingston keglers.

The No. 2 squad, powered by Bill Kuehn's 233-571 hit an out-of-the-money 2733 and the No. 1 trundlers posted 2722, with Ken Williams hitting 214-555.

Best doubles gross was the 1198 by George Flemings and Ad Jones, the former shooting 223-594.

Local Fans See Unusual Move

Hans Schmidt, the Vienna pachyderm, who must have been the meanest man in town last night, gave the professional wrestling addicts a baker's dozen treat at the municipal auditorium.

Some 600 of them saw Schmidt go beyond normal procedure in scoring three falls over Wild Bill Melby, 218, of St. Louis, in the main bout.

Schmidt won the first fall in 18 minutes with a slam and body press and the third and deciding fall in 2:10 with another press. Melby copped the middle fall in 10:20 with a Boston crab.

Both contestants appeared to be anxious to continue and it was okay with Referee Chick Gaynor. With his consent, Schmidt and Melby resumed their brawling and 4:12 later Schmidt had pinned Melby for the third time.

It was a typical Schmidt-Melby brawl, replete with police, screaming ladies and a slight rhubarb involving an indiscreet lady with a hatpin.

McCoy Wins

Bibber McCoy, 242, Cambridge, Mass., the former Holy Cross football star, flipped Joe Muscato, 225, Buffalo, in the semi-final.

McCoy tossed the former heavyweight boxer in 2:12 with a body press. Muscato squared matters with a body slam at 9:00. The deciding fall went to McCoy at 8:00 with a Boston crab.

Steve Gob, 218, Bayonne, N. J., demolished Joe Marsh, 222, Hollywood, with a flying scissors hold in 22:05 of the opening bout.

Tiger Jones Wants Saxton In Next Bout

New York, May 2 (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, all even with Jimmy Herring after reversing a 1952 decision, now wants to square accounts with Johnny Saxton.

"This is one I wanted," said Jones last night after winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Herring in a nationally televised bout at St. Nicholas Arena. "Now I want Saxton."

Billy Brown, Madison Square Garden matchmaker, has no open dates at the moment but he'll try to oblige—if Saxton's willing.

"I tried to knock him out in the first six rounds," said Jones. "I punched myself out. I sprained my left thumb in the ninth."

Jones floored Herring for an eight count with a right in the second. He shook him up again in the sixth when Herring staggered but didn't drop. Jones was down himself for a non-count knockdown in the fifth. At first Referee Al Berl called it a slip but changed his mind between rounds.

Jones, weighing 154 to Herring 159, received all three votes. Referee Berl scored it 5-3-2. Judge Jack Gordon 6-3-1 and Judge Frank Rorbes 6-4. The AP card was 6-4 also.

Schatzel Leads Classic on 569

Rose Schatzel's 569 (155-224-190) paced a brisk scoring session of the Woman's Classic League last night at the Bowlodrome.

Runnerup Bev Port fired 212-548 and Charlotte Lapine hammered 212-546.

Other top shooters included Elizabeth Egan 200-537, Ada Markle 208-536, Mary Wyant 529, Emma Pratt 507, Elizabeth Bruck 505, Doris Prendergast 500, Bertha Schaller 493, Tess Moss 482, Phyllis Roosa 481.

Team results:

Manhattan Balls 2, San Bar 1; Rowe's Shoe Store 2, Regina's 1; Bruck Funeral Home 2, R. Meyer Jewelers 1; State Diner 2, Perry's Taxi 1; Kaye Sportwair 2, Alpine 1.

Rochester Kegler Leads All-Events

Rochester, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Ollie Yockel, of Rochester, moved into first place last night in the all-events of the New York State men's bowling tournament here.

Yockel bowled 2,026 to bump Vic Cipani, also of Rochester, from the top spot. Cipani had a score of 1,968.

The new fourth-place man in the all-events was W. Duffy, Rochester, who rolled 1,963. Tod Di Tucci of Rochester holds third place.

In the singles event, Francis Miller, of Geneseo, rolled 727, including a 111-pin handicap, to take over second place. Charles Hart, of Auburn, was knocked out of this position in the standings.

There were no changes in the doubles and team events.

PROCLAMATION

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK
To the Sheriff of the County of Ulster GREETINGS:

Whereas, a Trial Term of Supreme Court and Jail Delivery is to be held in and for the County of Ulster, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, on May 4, 1953

We command you in pursuance of the provisions of Section 222-a of the Code of Criminal Procedure, in that case made and provided:

FIRST: That you summon the several persons who shall have been drawn in said County of Ulster, pursuant to law, to serve as Trial Jurors at the said Court to appear thereat.

SECOND: That you bring before the said Court all prisoners then being in the Jail of said County, together with all process and proceedings in any way concerning them in your hands as such Sheriff.

THIRD: That you make proclamation, in the manner prescribed by Section 222-c of the Code of Criminal Procedure, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other Officers who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at such Court, or who shall have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations to the said Court at the opening thereof, at the first day of its sitting.

WITNESS: Hon. William Deckelman, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, the 9th day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three.

HOWARD C. ST. JOHN
District Attorney for the County of Ulster

In pursuance of the above precept, I hereby make proclamation that a term of Supreme Court of Ulster County and Jail Delivery will be held at the Court House in Kingston in and for the County of Ulster the 4th day of May, 1953 at 2 o'clock in the P. M. of that day, and all persons who will prosecute against persons confined in the Jail of said County are required to be then and there present, to proceed as may be just: and all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognizance or otherwise, are required to appear thereat: and all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other Officers who may have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said Court or who may have taken any inquisition or the examination of any prisoner or witness, are required to return such recognizance inquisition and examination to the said Court at the opening thereof, at the first day of the sitting thereof and to be then and there present with their rolls and records, indictments and remembrances to do those things which to their office pertain.

Dated, City of Kingston N. Y., April 10, 1953.

Kingston Archers Win Dual Competition From Milton, 592-523

The Kingston Archery Club swept the team, individual and free style competition matches in a dual meet with Agines Mohawk Bowmen of Milton at the Pearl street range.

George Barkley was high individual with 381 for Kingston. Mike Kelmage posted 372 and Ed Sohms hit 369.

Don Wood of Kingston won the free style event with 379 points.

Rhinebeck Cards Double Windup

A fast field is entered for the first of a series of double windups tonight at the Rhinebeck Speedway.

Double features always mean additional care due to the increase in prize money for such events. The relaxation of rules by the Mutual Racing Association also makes eligible several cars heretofore barred.

Among the star drivers scheduled to compete are Steve Danish, Hal McCarty, Doug Benjamin, Bud Hitsman and the Disbrow brothers.

Starts Economy Move

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has started economy at home—in the secretary's office. Treasury personnel officials said reorganization of the secretary's office ordered by Humphrey took 30 people off the treasury's pay roll for a saving of $147,000 a year. The secretary's office last year employed an average of 467 persons, with salaries of $2,585,000. At the same time, however, Humphrey has added a deputy secretary and three assistants to the secretary. Those salaries add up to $48,400.

Identical Bills

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Sen. Lehman (D, Lib-NY) and Rep. Roosevelt (D, Lib-NY) have announced they will introduce identical bills calling for federal redevelopment of hydro-electric potential at Niagara Falls. Lehman and Roosevelt disclosed their decision yesterday in letters to chairmen of the Senate and House Public Works Committees, which are slated to open joint hearings May 14 on bills to authorize private enterprise to do the job.

Cadets Give 1,375 Pints

West Point, May 2 (AP)—Cadets and station personnel at the U. S. Military Academy contributed 422 pints of blood to the Red Cross yesterday, for a total of 1,375 pints during a four-day bloodmobile visit. That was 70 pints better than their previous record, set last fall. The academy has donated 6,600 pints since the blood-giving program began in Nov., 1950.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Biggest Airlift

Hanoi, Indochina, May 2 (AP)—French Union forces pushed the biggest airlift of the seven-year-old war in Indochina today to bolster the royal Laotian capital of Luangprabang against a threatened attack by Communist-led Vietminh rebels. Taking off from commercial and military airfields near Hanoi, transport planes poured troops and all kinds of war material, from barbed wire to field guns, into the residence town of Laotian King Sisavang Vong. French officials reported last night that forward elements of the Vietminh invading force were near Pakhou, 12 miles north of Luangprabang. French and Laotian troops defending the town of 6,000 inhabitants were digging in for a strong stand.

Milk Hearing Adjourned

Elmira, May 2 (AP)—The powerful Dairymens' League cooperative, spearheading the fight to get northern New Jersey into the New York milkshed's federal order, is expected to play a big part in the continuation of a federal milk hearing in New York next week. The hearing, first convened March 10, was adjourned here yesterday. Glenn J. Gifford, hearing examiner for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, said the hearing would reconvene in New York Tuesday.

Dies in Catskill Mishap

Catskill, May 2 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Stampur, 59, of (69 Spruce street) Yonkers, was injured fatally yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding overturned on a rain-swept highway. Mrs. Stampur died in Greene County Memorial Hospital. Police said her husband, Joseph, 62, was driving the car when it skidded near Rensselaerville, Albany county. He was not injured.

Fatal Plane Crash

Pottstown, Pa., May 2 (AP)—John Walter Bookman, 33, of 108-29 160th street, Jamaica, N. Y., died yesterday in Pottstown Hospital a half hour after his light plane crashed and burned near Flowing Springs, a tiny community near here. State police at the Paoli barracks said Bookman apparently became lost in his flight from Miami to New York.

Why We Say--

Rolled Up

A book is called a volume today as a comparison to early books. Originally books were merely rolls of paper. The word volume is from "volvere" in Latin and simply means "rolled up."

Candidate Slain

Tunis, Tunisia, May 2 (AP)—Unidentified assassins machine-gunned and killed deputy Mayor Chedli Kastally today in a street of this North African capital. The murdered man, director of the Arab daily newspaper Nahda, was a candidate for re-election to his city post in municipal voting scheduled tomorrow.

315 More Police Desert

Berlin, May 2 (AP)—Another 315 Communist people's police fled to West Berlin during the month of April, West Berlin police headquarters announced today. This brings the total of East zone police desertions since Jan. 1 to 1,198—the equivalent of four full companies.

PROCLAMATION

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK
To the Sheriff of the County of Ulster GREETINGS:

Whereas, a Trial Term of Supreme Court and Jail Delivery is to be held in and for the County of Ulster, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, on May 4, 1953

We command you in pursuance of the provisions of Section 222-a of the Code of Criminal Procedure, in that case made and provided:

FIRST: That you summon the several persons who shall have been drawn in said County of Ulster, pursuant to law, to serve as Trial Jurors at the said Court to appear thereat.

SECOND: That you bring before the said Court all prisoners then being in the Jail of said County, together with all process and proceedings in any way concerning them in your hands as such Sheriff.

THIRD: That you make proclamation, in the manner prescribed by Section 222-c of the Code of Criminal Procedure, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other Officers who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at such Court, or who shall have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations to the said Court at the opening thereof, at the first day of its sitting.

WITNESS: Hon. William Deckelman, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, the 9th day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three.

HOWARD C. ST. JOHN
District Attorney for the County of Ulster

In pursuance of the above precept, I hereby make proclamation that a term of Supreme Court of Ulster County and Jail Delivery will be held at the Court House in Kingston in and for the County of Ulster the 4th day of May, 1953 at 2 o'clock in the P. M. of that day, and all persons who will prosecute against persons confined in the Jail of said County are required to be then and there present, to proceed as may be just; and all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognizance or otherwise, are required to appear thereat; and all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other Officers who may have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said Court or who may have taken any inquisition or the examination of any prisoner or witness, are required to return such recognizance inquisition and examination to the said Court at the opening thereof, at the first day of the sitting thereof and to be then and there present with their rolls and records, indictments and remembrances to do those things which to their office pertain.

Dated, City of Kingston N. Y., April 10, 1953.

Starts Economy Move

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has started economy at home—in the secretary's office. Treasury personnel officials said reorganization of the secretary's office ordered by Humphrey took 30 people off the treasury's pay roll for a saving of $147,000 a year. The secretary's office last year employed an average of 467 persons, with salaries of $2,585,000. At the same time, however, Humphrey has added a deputy secretary and three assistants to the secretary. Those salaries add up to $48,400.

Identical Bills

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Sen. Lehman (D, Lib-NY) and Rep. Roosevelt (D, Lib-NY) have announced they will introduce identical bills calling for federal redevelopment of hydro-electric potential at Niagara Falls. Lehman and Roosevelt disclosed their decision yesterday in letters to chairmen of the Senate and House Public Works Committees, which are slated to open joint hearings May 14 on bills to authorize private enterprise to do the job.

Cadets Give 1,375 Pints

West Point, May 2 (AP)—Cadets and station personnel at the U. S. Military Academy contributed 422 pints of blood to the Red Cross yesterday, for a total of 1,375 pints during a four-day bloodmobile visit. That was 70 pints better than their previous record, set last fall. The academy has donated 6,600 pints since the blood-giving program began in Nov., 1950.

Biggest Airlift

Hanoi, Indochina, May 2 (AP)—French Union forces pushed the biggest airlift of the seven-year-old war in Indochina today to bolster the royal Laotian capital of Luangprabang against a threatened attack by Communist-led Vietminh rebels. Taking off from commercial and military airfields near Hanoi, transport planes poured troops and all kinds of war material, from barbed wire to field guns, into the residence town of Laotian King Sisavang Vong. French officials reported last night that forward elements of the Vietminh invading force were near Pakhou, 12 miles north of Luangprabang. French and Laotian troops defending the town of 6,000 inhabitants were digging in for a strong stand.

Milk Hearing Adjourned

Elmira, May 2 (AP)—The powerful Dairymens' League cooperative, spearheading the fight to get northern New Jersey into the New York milkshed's federal order, is expected to play a big part in the continuation of a federal milk hearing in New York next week. The hearing, first convened March 10, was adjourned here yesterday. Glenn J. Gifford, hearing examiner for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, said the hearing would reconvene in New York Tuesday.

Dies in Catskill Mishap

Catskill, May 2 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Stampur, 59, of (69 Spruce street) Yonkers, was injured fatally yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding overturned on a rain-swept highway. Mrs. Stampur died in Greene County Memorial Hospital. Police said her husband, Joseph, 62, was driving the car when it skidded near Rensselaerville, Albany county. He was not injured.

Fatal Plane Crash

Pottstown, Pa., May 2 (AP)—John Walter Bookman, 33, of 108-29 160th street, Jamaica, N. Y., died yesterday in Pottstown Hospital a half hour after his light plane crashed and burned near Flowing Springs, a tiny community near here. State police at the Paoli barracks said Bookman apparently became lost in his flight from Miami to New York.

Why We Say--

Rolled Up

A book is called a volume today as a comparison to early books. Originally books were merely rolls of paper. The word volume is from "volvere" in Latin and simply means "rolled up."

Candidate Slain

Tunis, Tunisia, May 2 (AP)—Unidentified assassins machine-gunned and killed deputy Mayor Chedli Kastally today in a street of this North African capital. The murdered man, director of the Arab daily newspaper Nahda, was a candidate for re-election to his city post in municipal voting scheduled tomorrow.

315 More Police Desert

Berlin, May 2 (AP)—Another 315 Communist people's police fled to West Berlin during the month of April, West Berlin police headquarters announced today. This brings the total of East zone police desertions since Jan. 1 to 1,198—the equivalent of four full companies.

Deputy Fire Chief Harold Sanford, Philip Maines and James Hutton are in charge of transportation.

City Insists . . .

Aqueduct. Since this water is high level water, requiring no pumping in the city, it is economical to operate in this manner.

"There are periods, however, following very heavy runoffs with resultant high turbidities, that the draft from the reservoir is slightly reduced to lessen turbidity treatment. These periods are at infrequent intervals and of very short duration.

Say Balance Achieved

"When subnormal rainfall or drought conditions obtain, an attempt is made to balance the storages in the many reservoirs of the City of New York water supply system so that each reservoir is drawn down in proportion to its drainage area. This is accomplished by regulating the drafts from the reservoirs, based upon the hydrological aspects of their watersheds, until a balance is achieved.

"We hope that the information given in this letter pertaining to the operation of the Ashokan reservoir, and how it is beneficial in mitigating flood flows, will serve to clarify any misunderstanding that may exist concerning its presence. We fully understand the apprehension of the property owners in the lower Esopus valley, as shown in the resolution, and we shall cooperate with them, as we have in the past, in doing everything feasible to alleviate flood conditions insofar as the operation of the Ashokan reservoir is concerned."

Two More Face

day marked the death of Frederick Oderisio, 63, of Albany, who was fatally stricken with a heart attack as he was being questioned by police.

Other persons arrested this week in connection with the alleged gambling case were identified by local police as Leonard Sickler, Jr., 25, of 22 Maiden Lane; Matthew Reynolds, 66, of 31 Ravine street; Peter Cerasaro, 35, of Lucas avenue extension; and Robert Vincent, 52, of 49 Dunneman avenue.

They are due to appear again before City Judge Mino Thursday, May 7.

Ellenville Cases

While local police and the sheriff's force conducted their surprise raid in Kingston Wednesday, two county men also were taken into custody on alleged charges dealing with "accepting wagers on numbers" in the Ellenville area. Authorities identified these men as Abram Johnson, 46, of Kerhonkson, and Isham Mark Morzet, 49, of Ellenville.

Morzet is due for hearing before Police Justice Benjamin Lonstein, of Ellenville, May 4, at 7 p. m. and Johnson will appear before the police justice May 13 at 7 p. m.

Highland

Highland, May 2—William H. Yates, supervising principal of the Central school, was elected president of the Ulster County Athletic League for 1953-54 at a meeting of the league held in New Paltz Monday, April 20. Under the constitution of the league the Highland director of athletics will serve as secretary-treasurer of the league. A dinner meeting of the league is planned soon to consider the application of Onteora Central School for league membership.

Members of Highland Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, have been invited to attend a district meeting of the Greene-Ulster district in Oasis Chapter, Prattsville, May 19, and in Catskill, Tuesday, June 2, for the homecoming of Charles M. Link, district grand lecturer. A turkey dinner will be held in St. Luke's parish house, Catskill, 6:30 o'clock, also an invitation from Obed Chapter, Poughkeepsie for a meeting of the Dutchess, Putnam, Columbia district, Thursday, May 21. Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Harp presided for the business. Mrs. Minnie Schmalkuche, associate matron, reported the recent social evening in Highland and rummage sales in New Paltz were very successful. She was accorded appreciation for her efforts, and in turn, expressed gratitude to all who assisted in making these affairs so remarkable. An invitation was received from Lloyd Post, American Legion, to take part in the Memorial Day parade. It was voted to hold a dinner preceding the district meeting in Highland Chapter, Tuesday, May 26, in the Methodist Church, Mrs. Lorraine Turner was appointed to secure details.

The Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a square dance, Friday, May 8, in the high school auditorium. The Barringers will furnish the music for both square and modern dances. At previous square dances sponsored by the P-TA both students and adults have been well represented. This is the second square dance this year to be sponsored by the organization. Proceeds will be used for awards to be given in the grade and high school graduating classes. Tickets are in charge of M. L. Wood and Mrs. Meredith Turner. Refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. Reymond Gerow and Mrs. Robert Temm, social chairmen.

The Highland Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously at its monthly meeting April 29 to sponsor a Spring Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up. Thus Highland joins more than 8,000 American towns which get their faces lifted every year in a clean-up blitz that has hit everything from the slums of Memphis to a certain midwestern community's town bum. Appointed to direct the several phases of the campaign were: Business sections, Frank Canora, Dan Tinacci; residential, Henry Robinson, Benny Lombardi, Pat Conforti; town beautification, J. J. Donovan, Albert Roberts; merchant cooperation, Clarence Tompkins, Peter Roumelis; public properties, Jack Nace, G. T. Morano; youth cooperation, W. H. Yates, Philip Bravata; publicity, Harold Berean, Tom McKinney.

Installation of officers will take place at the May meeting of the P-TA Thursday, May 14. Open house will be held in cooperation with the Teachers Association. The gymnasium department of the school will give a program in the auditorium, to be followed by visiting of class rooms. Refreshments will be served by the P-TA at the close of the visiting period. This is the one opportunity of the year for parents, friends and former students to visit the school and view some of the work which is being done in the classrooms.

The Misses Dorothy Height and Ruth Forsberg of Poughkeepsie were dinner guests Thursday evening of Miss Eliza Raymond.

Sympathy was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mellor for the loss of the former's father, and to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Roan on the death of an uncle. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dirk also lost a cousin, who lived on Long Island.

Mrs. Clara Johnson reported home from Kingston Hospital following an operation. The grandson of Mrs. Helen Mertz is in the hospital with pneumonia. Harry Kingston is reported improved.

R.W. Florence E. Cotant, grand warder, presided for installation of Mrs. Ethly Finley, color bearer, and Mrs. Lena Dirk, warder. She was assisted by M.W. Olive Thompson, marshal; Mrs. Ellen S. Rathgeb, chaplain; Mrs. Bessie Poucher, warder; W. LaVerne Short, assistant marshal. Mrs. Bessie Clayton substituted as Esther and Kenneth DuBois, sentinel. Mrs. Meredith Turner will entertain at a brush party at her home on Maple avenue Wednesday night, May 6, for the benefit of the chapter. Members and friends will attend. The meeting May 12 will honor Mother's Day. Committee in charge will be Mrs. Lena Dirk, Mrs. Anna Gersch, Mrs. Anna Maynard, Mrs. Sophie Busick, Mrs. Alice Mellor. Decorations of daffodils and jonquils with yellow candles featured the dining room by Mrs. Muriel B. Cotant, chairman. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Selina Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Harp, Mrs. Lillian Sheeley, Mrs. Anna Neubel.

4,000 in Jail

Berlin, May 2 (AP)—More than 4,000 members of East Germany's Communist police army are serving prison terms for criminal and political offenses, the West Berlin newspaper Nacht-Depesche reported today.

Caravan Against VD

New York, May 2 (AP)—New York city's health department today readied mobile units to station on street corners, beginning Monday, to give free blood tests for venereal disease. Although the city's number of reported cases of syphilis have been reduced by more than two-thirds since 1946, Health Commissioner John F. Mahoney said "many diseased persons remain untreated." He said the street-corner tests, aimed at finding unreported cases, will continue two months. Leaflets and amplifiers at street corners will sound the dangers of non-treatment.

Some of the best bridge players in this country seldom enter a bridge club or a bridge tournament. They do most of their playing at home, or perhaps in a country club. G. G. Money, of Barbados in the British West Indies, is a player of this sort.

Appropriately enough, Mr. Money is a banker and he plays bridge in a conservative but very skillful manner at the Savannah Club in Barbados. Today's hand shows Mr. Money at his prudent best.

West opened the five of diamonds, and my banker friend played low from the dummy and carefully won with the king in his own hand. His next step was to lead the king of hearts and overtake with dummy's ace. Then he continued with the jack of hearts from dummy, forcing out East's queen.

East returned the ten of spades, but Mr. Money's prudence was not a bit strained by this shift. He put up the ace of spades, winning the trick, and returned a low diamond towards dummy's jack.

West could take the queen of diamonds, but he could not prevent declarer from getting to dummy with the jack of diamonds to cash the rest of the hearts. South was thus sure of winning four heart tricks, three diamonds, and the two black aces.

Evidently, a difficult contract gives my friend no trouble. He can score it up at the beginning of the hand, just as though it were money in the bank.

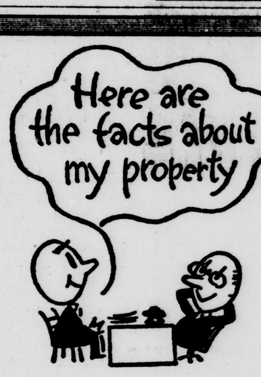

Tips About Auto Lights

If you cannot turn on your automobile lights, a faulty switch, wornout bulbs, discharged battery, or a blown fuse may be responsible.

Insurance Is Professional
Insurance today is a complex subject.
It takes a lot of study for us to keep on new and improved types of insurance.
It takes a lot of experience to advise you what kinds of insurance you should carry—how to combine policies to give you the most insurance for the least money, etc.
We hope to merit the same degree of confidence that you have in your doctor and lawyer.

WE STAND BETWEEN YOU AND LOSS

WHY
YOU SHOULD DEPOSIT CHECKS promptly
It is unwise to hold checks long because they may be lost or destroyed, or the person who made out the check may die, or perhaps stop payment. Also, the writer of the check has difficulty in balancing when checks are outstanding.
So, for your own sake and that of the check writer, deposit or cash all checks you receive without undue delay.

Aqueduct. Since this water is high level water, requiring no pumping in the city, it is economical to operate in this manner.

"There are periods, however, following very heavy runoffs with resultant high turbidities, that the draft from the reservoir is slightly reduced to lessen turbidity treatment. These periods are at infrequent intervals and of very short duration.

Say Balance Achieved

"When subnormal rainfall or drought conditions obtain, an attempt is made to balance the storages in the many reservoirs of the City of New York water supply system so that each reservoir is drawn down in proportion to its drainage area. This is accomplished by regulating the drafts from the reservoirs, based upon the hydrological aspects of their watersheds, until a balance is achieved.

"We hope that the information given in this letter pertaining to the operation of the Ashokan reservoir, and how it is beneficial in mitigating flood flows, will serve to clarify any misunderstanding that may exist concerning its presence. We fully understand the apprehension of the property owners in the lower Esopus valley, as shown in the resolution, and we shall cooperate with them, as we have in the past, in doing everything feasible to alleviate flood conditions insofar as the operation of the Ashokan reservoir is concerned."

Two More Face

day marked the death of Frederick Oderisio, 63, of Albany, who was fatally stricken with a heart attack as he was being questioned by police.

Other persons arrested this week in connection with the alleged gambling case were identified by local police as Leonard Sickler, Jr., 25, of 22 Maiden Lane; Matthew Reynolds, 66, of 31 Ravine street; Peter Cerasaro, 35, of Lucas avenue extension; and Robert Vincent, 52, of 49 Dunneman avenue.

They are due to appear again before City Judge Mino Thursday, May 7.

Ellenville Cases

While local police and the sheriff's force conducted their surprise raid in Kingston Wednesday, two county men also were taken into custody on alleged charges dealing with "accepting wagers on numbers" in the Ellenville area. Authorities identified these men as Abram Johnson, 46, of Kerhonkson, and Isham Mark Morzet, 49, of Ellenville.

Morzet is due for hearing before Police Justice Benjamin Lonstein, of Ellenville, May 4, at 7 p. m. and Johnson will appear before the police justice May 13 at 7 p. m.

Highland

Highland, May 2—William H. Yates, supervising principal of the Central school, was elected president of the Ulster County Athletic League for 1953-54 at a meeting of the league held in New Paltz Monday, April 20. Under the constitution of the league the Highland director of athletics will serve as secretary-treasurer of the league. A dinner meeting of the league is planned soon to consider the application of Onteora Central School for league membership.

Members of Highland Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, have been invited to attend a district meeting of the Greene-Ulster district in Oasis Chapter, Prattsville, May 19, and in Catskill, Tuesday, June 2, for the homecoming of Charles M. Link, district grand lecturer. A turkey dinner will be held in St. Luke's parish house, Catskill, 6:30 o'clock, also an invitation from Obed Chapter, Poughkeepsie for a meeting of the Dutchess, Putnam, Columbia district, Thursday, May 21. Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Harp presided for the business. Mrs. Minnie Schmalkuche, associate matron, reported the recent social evening in Highland and rummage sales in New Paltz were very successful. She was accorded appreciation for her efforts, and in turn, expressed gratitude to all who assisted in making these affairs so remarkable. An invitation was received from Lloyd Post, American Legion, to take part in the Memorial Day parade. It was voted to hold a dinner preceding the district meeting in Highland Chapter, Tuesday, May 26, in the Methodist Church, Mrs. Lorraine Turner was appointed to secure details.

The Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a square dance, Friday, May 8, in the high school auditorium. The Barringers will furnish the music for both square and modern dances. At previous square dances sponsored by the P-TA both students and adults have been well represented. This is the second square dance this year to be sponsored by the organization. Proceeds will be used for awards to be given in the grade and high school graduating classes. Tickets are in charge of M. L. Wood and Mrs. Meredith Turner. Refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. Reymond Gerow and Mrs. Robert Temm, social chairmen.

The Highland Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously at its monthly meeting April 29 to sponsor a Spring Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up. Thus Highland joins more than 8,000 American towns which get their faces lifted every year in a clean-up blitz that has hit everything from the slums of Memphis to a certain midwestern community's town bum. Appointed to direct the several phases of the campaign were: Business sections, Frank Canora, Dan Tinacci; residential, Henry Robinson, Benny Lombardi; Pat Conforti; town beautification, J. J. Donovan, Albert Roberts; merchant cooperation, Clarence Tompkins, Peter Roumelis; public properties, Jack Nace, G. T. Morano; youth cooperation, W. H. Yates, Philip Bravata; publicity, Harold Berean, Tom McKinney.

Installation of officers will take place at the May meeting of the P-TA Thursday, May 14. Open house will be held in cooperation with the Teachers Association. The gymnasium department of the school will give a program in the auditorium, to be followed by visiting of class rooms. Refreshments will be served by the P-TA at the close of the visiting period. This is the one opportunity of the year for parents, friends and former students to visit the school and view some of the work which is being done in the classrooms.

The Misses Dorothy Height and Ruth Forsberg of Poughkeepsie were dinner guests Thursday evening of Miss Eliza Raymond.

Sympathy was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mellor for the loss of the former's father, and to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Roan on the death of an uncle. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dirk also lost a cousin, who lived on Long Island.

Mrs. Clara Johnson reported home from Kingston Hospital following an operation. The grandson of Mrs. Helen Mertz is in the hospital with pneumonia. Harry Kingston is reported improved.

R.W. Florence E. Cotant, grand warder, presided for installation of Mrs. Ethly Finley, color bearer, and Mrs. Lena Dirk, warder. She was assisted by M.W. Olive Thompson, marshal; Mrs. Ellen S. Rathgeb, chaplain; Mrs. Bessie Poucher, warder; W. LaVerne Short, assistant marshal. Mrs. Bessie Clayton substituted as Esther and Kenneth DuBois, sentinel. Mrs. Meredith Turner will entertain at a brush party at her home on Maple avenue Wednesday night, May 6, for the benefit of the chapter. Members and friends will attend. The meeting May 12 will honor Mother's Day. Committee in charge will be Mrs. Lena Dirk, Mrs. Anna Gersch, Mrs. Anna Maynard, Mrs. Sophie Busick, Mrs. Alice Mellor. Decorations of daffodils and jonquils with yellow candles featured the dining room by Mrs. Muriel B. Cotant, chairman. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Selina Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Harp, Mrs. Lillian Sheeley, Mrs. Anna Neubel.

Caravan Against VD

New York, May 2 (AP)—New York city's health department today readied mobile units to station on street corners, beginning Monday, to give free blood tests for venereal disease. Although the city's number of reported cases of syphilis have been reduced by more than two-thirds since 1946, Health Commissioner John F. Mahoney said "many diseased persons remain untreated." He said the street-corner tests, aimed at finding unreported cases, will continue two months. Leaflets and amplifiers at street corners will sound the dangers of non-treatment.

Pigeons Ruin Clock

Binghamton, May 2 (AP)—Now, even if the courthouse clock gets loaded it will still show the correct time. Pigeons roosting on the clock hands slowed down the mechanical works. So Broome county is buying new electrical works guaranteed to keep time—even with pigeon passengers.

Some of the best bridge players in this country seldom enter a bridge club or a bridge tournament. They do most of their playing at home, or perhaps in a country club. G. G. Money, of Barbados in the British West Indies, is a player of this sort.

Appropriately enough, Mr. Money is a banker and he plays bridge in a conservative but very skillful manner at the Savannah Club in Barbados. Today's hand shows Mr. Money at his prudent best.

West opened the five of diamonds, and my banker friend played low from the dummy and carefully won with the king in his own hand. His next step was to lead the king of hearts and overtake with dummy's ace. Then he continued with the jack of hearts from dummy, forcing out East's queen.

East returned the ten of spades, but Mr. Money's prudence was not a bit strained by this shift. He put up the ace of spades, winning the trick, and returned a low diamond towards dummy's jack.

West could take the queen of diamonds, but he could not prevent declarer from getting to dummy with the jack of diamonds to cash the rest of the hearts. South was thus sure of winning four heart tricks, three diamonds, and the two black aces.

Evidently, a difficult contract gives my friend no trouble. He can score it up at the beginning of the hand, just as though it were money in the bank.

Tips About Auto Lights

If you cannot turn on your automobile lights, a faulty switch, wornout bulbs, discharged battery, or a blown fuse may be responsible.

Insurance Is Professional
Insurance today is a complex subject.
It takes a lot of study for us to keep on new and improved types of insurance.
It takes a lot of experience to advise you what kinds of insurance you should carry—how to combine policies to give you the most insurance for the least money, etc.
We hope to merit the same degree of confidence that you have in your doctor and lawyer.

WE STAND BETWEEN YOU AND LOSS

WHY YOU SHOULD DEPOSIT CHECKS promptly
It is unwise to hold checks long because they may be lost or destroyed, or the person who made out the check may die, or perhaps stop payment. Also, the writer of the check has difficulty in balancing when checks are outstanding.
So, for your own sake and that of the check writer, deposit or cash all checks you receive without undue delay.
